By The Associated Press

ELAND, Sept. 2—Air racing's newly crowned champions. to go home with more than $100,000 in prize money, day to study the record of the wildest race in sport flying planes dug into the wet dirt near municipal airport during ng of the Thompson trophy classic at the National Air sterday. The toll was one pilot dead, two injured and one walk away from a mass g wreckage.

y, rich in flying marks. Cleland of Cleveland world's closed course 396.1 miles an hour, a 12 miles, and set a new mark for one lap by p 404.4 miles an hour. ofessional Racing Pilots n headed by Arthur Chester of Los Angeles, was called into meeting this afternoon to discuss steps to increase safety and spectator enjoyment. There were intimations the pilots will ask for stricter regulations for both fliers and planes, and also will seek changes in the race courses.

Climaxes Exhibition

Cleland's performance in the 20-lap 300-miles race for $16.000 first prize topped a brilliant three-day exhibition. A second Cleland entry, flown by Richard Becker of suburban Willoughby, finished second.

The third Cleland plane figured in the day's tragedy. Tony Jannazo, popular young flier, crashed with it in the seventh lap and died in the wreckage. All three planes were Corsair Navy fighters, powered with the largest and most powerful reciprocating engines ever flown.

Jack Hardwick of Arcadia, Calif., started the crash series by setting his P-51 Mustang down in a field near the race course. It was a rough landing that tore the plane to pieces and started a fire, but Hardwick walked away and within 15 minutes was back in the race stands.

Then Jannaza crashed, and almost immediately Woody Emondson of Lynchburg, Va., made a forced landing that sent him to nearby Berea hospital. His condition was described as fair.

Flier Parachutes, Breaks Leg

Jean L. Ziegler of Kenmore, N. Y., flying an experimental fighter, the Curtiss XP40-Q and apparently in the race without authorization, gave the entire crowd an unlooked for scare by abandoning his plane and parachuting in full sight of the stands. He broke a leg in landing.

Ziegler's participation caused some difficulty in the timer's booth, and official results were delayed an hour. He was given no recognition in the formal report of results.

Only six of the 13 planes which took off in the Thompson classic finished.

Cleland's win was worth $19,500, including $2,000 for a new record and $1,500 in lap prizes.

William Brennand of Oshkosh, Wis., took home $8,500 for victories in the Goodyear trophy race for midget planes. He averaged 165.8 miles an hour around a two mile rectangular course.

Lt. Col. Robert L. Petit of Ventura, Calif., averaged 500.7 miles an hour for 154 miles to win a special division of the Thompson for jet planes. He flew a P-80

BODY OF BOY FOUND IN WATER BY SEARCHERS

Efforts To Revive Him Unsuccessful; Believed Dead 15 Minutes.

Richard Eugene Acker Jr., 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. Acker of 198 Lake street was drowned shortly after 11 a. m. today after apparently falling into McKinley lake on South Prospect street.

The child had wandered away from the home, located on the north side of Lake street at the end of Waples avenue. His mother said he had been playing in front of the house on his bicycle just a short time before. She found the bicycle he had been riding and after putting it on the front porch she started in search of him. He had been gone between 15 minutes and a half hour. The father was at work at the Huber Mfg. Co. where he is a draftsman.

Mrs. Acker started toward South Prospect street in her search when she met Miss Shirley Ebert of 215 Lake street with another girl. When the two girls learned that the boy was gone, they put up their bicycles and joined in the search.

Miss Ebert started around the lake, located just to the south of the Ebert home, about 25 feet from the rear of the house. There is a slight embankment from the rear of the Ebert house, on the south side of the street, down to the lake edge. Miss Ebert saw something floating near the east bank and thought at first it was a cardboard box. She discovered it was the child and ran to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Yannitell of 791 Waples avenue, telling her the child was in the water just to the rear of her home.

Call for Help

Mrs. Yannitell, in the house at the time, instructed Miss Ebert to notify a doctor and the emergency squad of Central fire department as she hurried out to the lake. She had to climb a fence at the back of their property to get down to the lake. The other properties are not enclosed.

She said the child was floating face up about five feet from shore near a large tree at a spot where the water was about four feet deep. She waded into the water to reach the child.

Bringing him to the bank, Mrs. Yannitell started artificial respiration immediately and continued until the physician arrived. An injection over the heart was given in an attempt to revive the child before the inhalator squad arrived. Charles McDonough and John Ganoe of Central station worked over the body with the pulmotor for approximately 25 minutes but to no avail. The child was pronounced dead by the doctor.

The Yannitells had returned from a vacation last night and Mrs. Yannitell was washing this morning when the accident occurred and she was called for the rescue.

According to reports, the child was not accustomed to playing

Rail Workers Get 15½ Cent Raise

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Sept 2—An arbitration board today awarded a wage increase of 15½ cents an hour, effective yesterday, to nearly 1,000,000 non-operating workers on the nation's major railroads. The men had asked a boost of 20 cents.

Under an agreement reached by the unions and the carriers, the findings of the arbitration board of six members headed by Dr. William Leiserson, former chairman of the national labor relations board, are binding upon the parties.

The increase was the third awarded to this classification of railroad labor in little more than a year. In 1946 they were awarded a boost of 18½ cents an hour.

Non-operating personnel, amounting to about three-fourths of the line's total employment, consist of clerks, telegraphers, maintenance men and others not employed directly in the running of trains.

The findings were based on hearings conducted in Chicago from Aug. 4 through Aug. 28. In asking for the full 20 cents the 17 unions of non-operating workers contended they did not enjoy wage benefits comparable with persons doing comparable work in other industries, they had not shared fully in the nation's expanding prosperity, and there has been a measurable increase in their productivity.

Witnesses for the railroads contended the workers were paid equitably, that granting the demands would be financially unsound and that revenues were not keeping pace with increased operating costs, which include payrolls.

At one session of the hearing, L. W. Horning of New York, vice president of the New York Central system, estimated a 20 cent increase would hike payrolls by $566,000,000 a year.

At Least 35 Die As Trains Crash Headon

By The Associated Press

DUGALD, Man., Sept. 2 — At least 35 persons were killed last night in a collision of a vacationers' special train and a standing passenger express at the Dugald station, 20 miles east of Winnepeg.

Rescue crews clawed through the burned, twisted wreckage of the two trains in an effort to extricate the dead and injured. The west-bound vacation train smashed head-on into the express as the latter was discharging passengers.

Rescue workers toiling at the scene said this morning they had recovered 17 bodies from the charred wreckage of the special train, two cars of which burst into flame immediately after the collision.

Gaye Lewis, 64, of Transcona, Man., engineer of the Canadian National railways special which was bringing Labor Day holidayers home from the Lake of the Woods resort, and Mrs. Albert Simpson of Winnepeg died enroute to hospitals.

Wreckage Searched

How many more bodies might be buried in the charred wreckage of the coaches no one knew, but some of the estimates ran high. All the victims thus far were said to have been aboard the special.

The fifteen injured—all of them had been been aboard the resort train—were taken to the hospital at St. Boniface.

The special was said to have been traveling at about 30 miles an hour when it crashed into the standing express shortly before 11 p. m. (EST). The second car of the 13 in the special burst into flame at once and fire quickly spread, first to the other coaches and then to a grain elevator standing beside the track at this small flag stop. Later it fanned over to oil storage tanks nearby.

Members of the few families which live in the vicinity of Dugald said the scene was a holocaust when they arrived. Flames were shooting 50 feet in the air, they said, the two locomotives were locked together and the baggage car of the transcontinental train had climbed part way up the tender.

Heat Is Intense

A steel baggage coach on the special remained upright but behind it coaches were slung crazily along the right of way. The heat was so intense that early attempts

LABOR DAY ACCIDENT TOLL REACHES 448

Ohio Holiday Deaths Now Stand at 20.

By The Associated Press

At least 448 persons died in violent accidents over the three-day Labor Day weekend.

Traffic mishaps accounted for by far the majority of the tragedies, with 290 persons dead in crashes on the nation's highways. In addition, 81 persons drowned and 77 were killed in other accidents, including 21 deaths in plane crashes.

The traffic toll was higher than the early estimate of 250 made by the national safety council, but it was still well below the all time Labor Day weekend traffic fatality figure of 423 in 1941. In that year another 73 drowned and 125 died in miscellaneous violent mishaps, bringing the 1941 holiday's deaths to 621.

California compiled the largest traffic death total — 23. Texas was close behind with 22, and then New York was third with 18.

Deaths of the two 17-year-old Franklin county boys following an auto accident last night about four miles northwest of Columbus and the drowning of a 21-year-old Wilimington man pushed Ohio's holiday weekend death toll to 20 early today.

Don Ebright and John Murphy, both of near Columbus, were the crash victims. Their deaths were the 12th and 13th from traffic accidents.

Walter Bogan, the drowning victim, was the sixth such death; while three-year-old Archie Shafer of Newark was burned fatally in an automobile ignited when papers caught fire.

Ebright died early today at Columbus University hospital several hours after Murphy was killed instantly when their automobile skidded on wet pavement on U. S. route 33, near Dublin, O., crashing into an auto coming from another direction.

Four others were injured, the state highway patrol reported.

Murphy's body was not removed from the wreckage until firemen extinguished a stubborn blaze that resulted after the car struck a guard rail, highway patrolman Kenneth Duling said.

Other weekend fatalities were: Cincinnati — Ronal Campbell and Gratton Gaunce, traffic; Robert Koch, 24, drowned in the Great Miami river when a motorboat capsized.

Cleveland—Evelyn Gurney and Peter Kneick, drowned when their boat overturned in Lake Erie: Carl Craine, Mrs. May

Regional Model Plane Event Set at Marion Airport Sept. 14

Sunday, Sept. 14, the Marion Prop Busters club and the Y's Men's Service club will stage a regional model airplane meet at the Marion municipal airport. Several hundred contestants from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Kentucky are expected to be on hand to compete for prizes and trophies valued at more than $1,000.

The meet has the sanction of the Academy of Model Aeronautics which is the governing body for model aviation in America. The competition will be open to all regardless of age or residence and will include practically all of the recognized model airplane outdoor events. The meet will be held rain or shine, due to the fact that many contestants will have traveled one or two hundred miles to be on hand.

Opens at 9 a. m.

Registration for fliers will open at 9 a. m. Sunday and official flights will continue throughout the day. A probable deadline of 5 p. m. is being set up. At the close of the contests, the results will be tabulated and awards will be presented for the best flight times. It is hoped to be able to award prizes to the first eight places in each event. Contestants will pay a blanket fee of 75 cents which will entitle them to compete in all events. No admission charge will be made to spectators. Refreshment stands will be on the grounds and ample parking facilities will be provided.

A. A. Freeman, manager of the municipal airport, located just west of the Kenton pike, is cooperating fully in the staging of this meet. He had announced that the airport will be closed that day to all normal traffic. Emergency landings will be permitted.

R. D. Blank of Barks road, who has taken an active part in the program of the Prop Busters as a model airplane club, has been appointed contest director by the A. M. A. He advises that older club members will assist in timing and judging the events while the younger fliers will compete with the out-of-town entrants.

Mr. Blank is working directly with R. S. Kraner of 676 South

Football Booster Drive Opens With Rally Tomorrow

The Harding High School Football Betterment Program being sponsored jointly by the Marion Boosters club and the high school athletic association will get into full swing tomorrow night at the high school stadium when the coaching staff will be introduced to the public and an intrasquad practice game played.

The planned activities for tomorrow night which will get under way about 7 p. m. will spark the drive by the civic minded football backers to promote the sale of season reserved seats for the Harding High School games, one of the immediate goals of the football betterment program.

Other imminent objectives of the program are to raise funds through private donations to help underwrite the cost of the new bleachers on the east side of the field and the cost of more adequate facilities for high school athletics.

Members of the Harding band have been asked to report at the stadium at 6:45 p. m. tomorrow in uniform to play for the night's activities. Athletic Director D. N. Bohyer said today.

More about Marion school sports including start of a series of articles on the high school coaching staff is on the sports page today.

GALION BOY HURT IN 2-STORY FALL

Critically Injured as He Tumbles from Window.

Special to The Star

GALION, Sept. 2—Seriously injured when he fell from a second story window Sunday, Harry Riddlebaugh, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Riddlebaugh of South street, is in critical condition in city hospital today.

Dr. Martin Horowitz who attended the child listed injuries as a fractured skull and possible internal injuries.

According to the family the boy was playing alone upstairs. His mother who was engaged in housework downstairs had been calling to him at intervals to be sure he was all right. She did not know the accident had occurred until the child's older sister playing in the yard discovered the tot lying on the cinder drive beneath the second story window.

54 "Miss Americas" Make First Appearance

(Picture on Page 8)

By International News Service

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 2—Fifty-four American beauties, contestants for the Miss America title of 1947, were to make their first official appearance today in the festival of floats parade on the boardwalk.

Among the beauties was lovely Evangeline de Castro, Miss Phillippines, who was greeted by the reigning Miss America, Marilyn Buferd of California.

The petite and attractive Filipino miss, although not a contestant, will serve as a hostess during the pageant as a tribute to her native land.

The Cunningham twins—Dorothy Jane and Georgia Jean—representing the city of Chattanooga and the state of Tennessee, respectfully, were two identical blonds who caused considerable stir.

The contest gets under way on Wednesday with the girls vying for honors in the bathing suit, talent and evening gown class, the 15 finalists will compete on Saturday in the final judging for Miss America, 1947.

12 SCHOOLS IN COUNTY OPEN

Two Are Delayed: Ivan Barnhart Named Assistant Superintendent.

Twelve of the fourteen county schools opened today for the 1948-49 term. The two who have postponed their opening until next Monday are LaRue and Campbell, D. T. Mills, county superintendent announced today. Opening of the schools is delayed because repair and redecorating work is incomplete.

Marion city and parochial schools will resume classes on next Monday.

Appointment of Ivan R. Barnhart, 38, of Canal Winchester as assistant county school superintendent was also announced today by Mr. Mills. He succeeds Virgil L. Anderson who was made superintendent at Prospect.

Mr. Barnhart formerly was at Green Camp school, going there as an instructor in the school. He was made principal there in 1931 and served at that post until 1933 when he was made superintendent. He served in that capacity until 1945 when he left to enter Red Cross work.

During the war he worked as junior Red Cross field representative in Indiana and Ohio. He was graduated from Canal Winchester High school and received his bachelor of science degree, degree in education and his master of arts degree at Ohio State university. He has been appointed as pupil personnel and guidance director and will be located at the county school office in the courthouse.

Mr. Barnhart is married and has a family and has been located at Canal Winchester, O. since he left Red Cross work after serving for about a year. While at Green

Lima Baseball Club Manager Suspended For Hi-Jinks Here

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 2—Manager Tony Chernetsky of the Lima club of the Ohio State league was suspended indefinitely today pending an investigation of hi-jinks in a game at Marion last night.

President Frank M. Colley, president of the league, who suspended Chernetsky and will make the inquiry, said he was informed that the Lima manager "made a farce of the game."

The game was halted by rain in the fourth inning with Marion leading, 13-2.

Colley said the Marion club complained that in the fourth inning Manager Chernetsky decided his infielders needed a rest, took them out of the game and replaced them with pitchers. Chernetsky, a catcher, was pitching the game.

The Marion club protested that Chernetsky's conduct so delayed the game that the inning could not be played, and Marion thereby was deprived of a victory.

WARNS OTHERS AGAINST ACTS OF AGGRESSION

Tells Conference U. S. Reluctance To Use Force Should Not Be Misread.

By The Associated Press

QUITANDINHA, Brazil, Sept. 2—President Truman declared today that although the United States has an "aversion to violence" this is no "invitation to others to take liberties with the foundations of international peace."

"No great nation has been more reluctant than ours to use armed force," he said in an address prepared for the closing session of the Inter-American defense conference, but that "must not be misread as a lack of determination on our part to live up to the obligations of the United Nations charter."

And he added:

"Our military strength will be retained as evidence of the seriousness with which we view our obligations."

Notes Bitter Disappointment

Mr. Truman said the postwar era "has brought us bitter disappointment and deep concern."

"We find," he said, "that a number of nations are still subjected to a type of foreign domination which we fought to overcome. Many of the remaining peoples of Europe and Asia live under the shadow of armed aggression."

And he asserted European economic recovery has lagged because of "political fear and uncertainty in addition to the devastation caused by war."

He laid down a four-point American foreign policy under which he said the United States will pursue the quest for peace with no less persistence and no less determination "than we applied to the quest for military victory:

Four-Point Plan

The four points:

►Under the Marshall plan, he said, America intends to do its best "to provide economic help to those who are prepared to help themselves and each other." He added that the United States is prepared to do everything it can "within safe limits, that will be helpful and effective."

►Fidelity to the United Nations. "We shall not forget our obligations under the charter, nor shall we permit others to forget theirs."

►In carrying out its obligations to achieve world stability and peace, the United States is determined "to remain strong."

►The problems of countries in the western hemisphere are different in nature from those of Europe and cannot be relieved by the same means, but will be approached by us with the utmost good faith and with increased vigor in the coming period."

Mr. Truman's address highlighted the closing session of the conference at which delegates have hammered out an unprecedented defense pact binding the Americas to joint action in case of armed attack on any peaceable nation in the hemisphere.

Signing of the treaty by the 19 participating nations, in President Truman's presence, was arranged for this afternoon in Rio de Janeiro's Itanaraty palace, home of the Brazilian foreign ministry.

Also on the President's schedule was a luncheon aboard the Battleship Missouri in Guanabara bay, 45 miles from here, for the ranking members of the delegations to the conference.

53 U. S. Corporations Linked with Nazi Trust

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, GERMANY, Sept. 2—American prosecutors introduced today documents linking 53 United States firms with the defunct I. G. Farben Industrie chemical trust, illustrating the world wide influence of the sprawling German combine.

The records were offered without comment in the trials of 20 Farbenindustrie directors, whose lives may be forfeited if they are convicted as charged with waging aggressive war. The trust crumbled with Germany.

Listings were taken from Farben's own records captured at Frankfurt by American troops.

Love at 60 Puts Nazi Magnate In Courtroom As War Criminal

By The Associated Press

NUERNBERG, Germany, Sept 2—Love at 60 has put Paul Haefliger in the prisoner's dock, charged with high war crimes that could cost him his life.

Haefliger sits in the courtroom seat warmed by Karl Doenitz during the international military trial. It is just behind that reserved once for Herman Goering.

Tall, bent and nervously excited, Haefliger nevertheless looks like what he was—a high grade, topflight executive. He is one of the 24 men charged with directing the fabulous I. G. Farbenindustrie, heart and brains of Hitler's industrial might.

First Non-German

He has another distinction—he is the first non-German to be a defendant here. That point may be somewhat debatable because Haefliger has a dual citizenship, he is Swiss by birth and the Swiss government never cancelled his citizenship. But that gets into the story of Haefliger and love at 60.

Chronologically, it goes like this:

With his native Swiss talent, command of four languages and high ambition, Haefliger became a highly paid Farben man while still in his 20s. By 1934 he was complaining that his income of 91,000 marks ($36,000) a year was too low.

From the Swiss side of the border, he handled Farben's huge magnesium interests. Nothing wrong with that so far.

Goes to Frankfurt

In the 1930s, now a full-blown expert, he became Swiss consul at Frankfurt, serving without pay, but retaining his connection with I. G. Farben. He held this post four years, until 1938, and then plunged into the greatly expanded Farben work as the war approached.

In 1941, Germany was top dog. Haefliger applied for and obtained German citizenship, surrendering his Swiss passport.

Haefliger rode with the Farben train until the end could be seen early in 1945. But then he fell in love and married—for a third time.

Germany collapsed. Here was Haefliger, still a Swiss citizen, but also a German citizen by choice. He could not go to Switzerland, a safe haven, unless he abandoned his new German wife. He refused to do that.

So he remained at Frankfort and assisted the Swiss consulate in an advisory capacity.

Gives Citizenship Back

In 1946, he ran into the same official who had granted him his German citizenship in 1941. Haefliger gave it back to him didn't want any part of it. That seemed to solve his personal problem but it did not open the Swiss border to his German wife.

Then he was arrested by U. S. war crimes prosecutors. He engaged a Swiss attorney to defend him. But his fortune is frozen in Switzerland and the attorney said he would have to ask the Swiss government to make funds available for the defense.

The Swiss consul in Frankfort said his government hasn't any interest in Haefliger at least officially. As far as it is concerned, he is on his own defending himself as a German.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN BUNDESEN, M.D.

Healing Ointment

Penicillin, the most amazing drug of modern times, comes from a common mold. Hence, we should not be surprised to find other healing substances in Nature. Research men are looking for them all the time and one of the most recent they have come up with is chlorophyll or the green coloring matter in plants.

When this substance, manufactured naturally by practically every growing plant, is extracted and put into an ointment, it seems to have great power to heal sores on the skin. Particularly is this true with leg ulcers. Many patients who have suffered from these running, infected sores for quite a while, obtained relief from pain in a few days and complete healing in six to ten weeks, when this ointment was used.

Ulcers of this kind develop because of a slowing down of circulation to the skin and consequent death to cells due to lack of nourishment. Usually this slowing down of the blood flow is due to varicose veins, that is, veins which have lost their elasticity so that the blood tends to stagnate and dilate them. Thus, these varicose veins should be treated.

The local care consists of a thorough soap and water cleansing of the foot, leg, and ulcerated area, at least two or three times a week. The ulcer itself is cleansed with a piece of gauze soaked in carbon tetrachloride. This cleansing process causes pain the first few times it is used.

Following the cleansing, the ulcer itself is coated with a thin layer of ointment. It it then covered with a piece of gauze, and a piece of rubber sponge about one-half inch to one inch thick. Then the leg is wrapped with an elastic type bandage.

The dressing is changed once every two days. However, each night the elastic bandage and sponge are removed at bedtime and the leg is rewrapped in the morning. During the night, the gauze over the ulcer is held in place with a few pieces of adhesive tape.

Patients are instructed to walk as much as possible, even up to five miles a day. The more the leg is exercised, the faster it will heal.

In most cases, the ulcers heal rapidly, and the pain disappears after a few days of treatment. In some instances, the ulcers recur, but application of the same treatment brings about rapid healing.

37th Division Veterans Endorse Arms Training

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 2—Universal military training has the endorsement of the 37th Division Veterans association.

Before closing its 29th annual reunion yesterday, the group also adopted a resolution again urging that the division be awarded a third battle star for its part in the Pacific campaign of World War II.

The association empowered its executive committee to select a city for the 1948 reunion.

Officers included: Richard McCroskey, Toledo, president; Rev. Frederick Kirker, Columbus, vice-president; Harold E. Snell, Youngstown, secretary; Warren Williams, Toledo, treasurer, and Harold Hagberg, Cleveland, chaplain.

axaca to the Guate- er there is no road, nor trail, because there was just desert and some cactus plants from which the natives squeeze a fiery lotion called tequila. Came the war and the master minds here decided that the Pan American highway had to be finished pronto.

The public roads administration rushed to Guatemala to push through the highway there. So did the Army Engineer Corps.

"We'll build the high road." the PRA said.

"And we'll take the low road," the Army replied.

Argument Goes On

This argument went from bad to worse until the Army wasn't even speaking to the PRA and, of course, vice-versa. So the Army struck up its nose and bull-dozed a road south through the jungles on the west coast plains.

The public roads administration ignored the Army's operations. If the Army's road builders were crazy men, could the PRA help it? No, the PRA said. So it built another road a few miles inland and a few thousand feet higher in the mountains. Both of these highways begin in a wilderness and end in a ditto.

The Army's road never was finished. The PRA's road still is being built. Native labor is hacking stone out of the hillsides, and American steam rollers are crushing it into the road bed. I doubt if Sen. Ferguson ever did learn what the pair of roads cost. Everybody I asked had a different answer. All I do know is that the experts originally said the completed road to Panama would cast $25,000,000.

77 Million Spent

So far they've spent $77,000,000. The jungle is closing in on much of their handiwork and they now estimate that it will take another $65,000,000 to finish the job. I'm blushing, all right; I've also got pains in my pocketbook.

Our roads in Guatemala are beautifully engineered. High bridges carry them over gorges; dynamite has blasted them into sheer mountainsides. They're handy, too, for the Indians, who travel almost exclusively by foot.

They like these sidewalks 28 feet wide. They never saw the like. They have only one complaint. Don't those Americanos know that a pedestrian has got to sit down once in a while and rest in the shade then when in the name of all two dozen Mayan gods did we chop down all the trees on both sides of both streets

I couldn't answer that one, either. Maybe Sen. Ferguson can.

2 States Hunt Paroled Slayer

Ohio, Kentucky Seek Killer After 4 Persons Are Assaulted.

By The Associated Press

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2—Police of Ohio and Kentucky pressed their search today for a 34-year-old paroled slayer after a week-end wave of assaults across southwestern Ohio that sent four persons to hospitals, two of them in serious condition.

Detective Chief Clem Merz identified the suspect as Clifford Gayles, a Negro, of Xenia, O., who was paroled from Ohio State penitentiary in January, 1945, after serving eight years of a life term for a knife slaying here in 1934.

Kentucky police joined the search, Herz said, after a gasoline station attendant at neighboring Covington, Ky., told of seeing an automobile, reportedly stolen by Gayles, pass his establishment yesterday.

Woman in Hospital

Mrs. Edna Adkins, 33, of Franklin, O., one of the persons allegedly beaten during the "crime wave," was reported in serious condition at Middletown (O.) hospital.

General hospital here said the condition of Edgar Rizzo, 45, of neighboring Highland Heights, Ky., also was serious.

This series of events touched off the search for Gayles:

Mrs. Ollie Davidson Guy, a Cleveland negress, told Greene county police Saturday night that Gayles had shot her in the thigh at a Xenia residence after she forbade him to take her younger sister on an auto trip. The sister disappeared after the shooting.

A man and a young girl "hitched" a ride with Junior Steele of Dayton and then forced him from the car near Germantown before driving away.

Car Abandoned

Police found Steele's car north of Middletown, near the spot where Mrs. Adkins' automobile was commandeered by an unidentified man.

Later, Mrs. Adkins and her son, Paul, 10, who also was in the car, were found lying on a roadside, south of Middletown. Mrs. Adkins' clothes had been torn from her body, and she and her son had been beaten brutally. Middletown hospital described the boy's condition as fair.

Rizzo's automobile collided with another car on the outskirts of Cincinnati early yesterday. The other driver took Rizzo's car and, after driving a short distance, knifed and beat the Kentucky man before tossing him to the roadside.

Capt. Ralph Anderson, night chief of Hamilton county police, announced he would prefer charges of cutting to kill, armed robbery and auto theft against Gayles for his alleged activities in the Cincinnati area.

Record Number of Entries Delay Finals in Leafy Oak Field Trials

Special to The Star

MT. VICTORY, Sept. 1—A new Leafy Oak tree champion and line champion were to emerge today from the national coondog field trials as the bulging list of entries forced final events to be carried over into the third day at the Walton farm east of here.

The remaining semi-final heats and the championship event were run off today having been held over from last night when darkness halted trials midway in the semi-final events in the national classic.

Yesterday's attendance ran to more than 10,000 persons many of whom expected to see the conclusion of the meet and the new Leafy Oak tree and line champion. When it became evident late in the afternoon that the meet would have to be held over until today spectators began to leave the scene of the trials in a steady stream of traffic.

Bozo Eliminated

Bozo, the 1946 tree champion, running in the twenty-second heat Sunday was eliminated in his attempt to take top coondog honors in the $5,000 event. The entry of Clarence Moland of Leland, Ill., Bozo finished as second line winner, not qualifying for the semi-finals.

As the long grind continued throughout the day, side events captured the attention of many of those attending the chase. Other activities adding color to the spectacle were several hillbilly bands, also "horsetraders" who had for swap a varied assortment of sporting goods, including shotguns, dog traces, rifles and even live coons.

Concessions on the grounds boomed on practically a round the clock basis.

Favorites Watched

Those who came to follow the dogs had their eyes "peeled" on several that showed well in the heats run Sunday and yesterday. They included such coondogs as Dapper Dan, from Dalton, Mass.; Breeze, owned by Wayne Royer of Perrysville, O.; Blue Moon, owned by I. B. Baker of Norwich, O.; Midnite Speed of S. E. Scott of Tennessee and Delta Rythm the entry of C. E. Bryan of St. Albans, W. Va. whose Creepin Della last year took the line championship.

Rain both Sunday and last night made the grounds a quagmire in several places with several tents a little the worse for wear, having been blown about my the high winds accompanying the heavy thunderstorms. The running of the classic however was little impeded by rain, the crowds were orderly and one of the largest ever to have attended the running of the national coondog trials, officials said.

Veterans Rush Marion Banks To Cash Terminal Pay Bonds

Veterans of World War II who have terminal leave bonds were streaming steadily into the Marion banks today to cash them, a check of the banks disclosed today.

One of the banks estimated that some 250 veterans had been in before noon today. Others were unable to give an estimate but stated that there had been steady lines at the various windows all during the morning. Just before noon they were beginning to thin down a trifle, bank officials reported, but the veterans were still coming in steadily. Actual number of bonds being cashed will not be known until after the bank closes this afternoon.

Instructions for the cashing of terminal leave bonds are given in a United Press report from Washington, D. C.

How It Works

If you are an honorably discharged veteran, here's what you do to cash your terminal leave pay bond:

1. Take it to the bank or financial house in your neighborhood authorized to redeem it.

2. Identify yourself to the bank's satisfaction. Discharge papers are a good idea but not essential if the bank knows you.

3. Sign the request for payment exactly as your name is inscribed on the face of the bond, adding your home or business address. If it was signed previously, the bank can require you to sign it again.

If you don't have a bank or financial house authorized to cash bonds in your neighborhood, here's what to do:

1. Sign if in the presence of a "certifying officer" and have him sign it.

("Certifying officers" are officers of commercial banks and trust companies with federal charters or organized under the federal reserve system, or officers of federal land banks or federal home loan banks.)

2. Send your bond, preferably by registered mail, to the nearest federal reserve bank or to the treasurer of the United States, Washington 25, D. C.

If you have a "duplicate" bond, one issued for a bond which was lost or destroyed, do this:

1. Sign it in the presence of a "certifying officer" and have him sign it.

2. Send it, preferably by registered mail, to the U. S. treasury, division of loans and currency, Washington 25, D. C.

If you are the survivor—widow, widower, child or parent—of a veteran who failed to apply for his bond before his death, you can get the cash equivalent of what your deceased veteran would have been entitled to receive.

But you will need a special application form called "Survivor's claim for settlement of unused leave." You get it by writing to these places:

Army Veteran Survivors—Army Finance Office, 4300 Goodfellow Blvd., St. Louis 20, Mo.

Navy Veteran Survivors—Chief of Navy Personnel, Navy Department, Washington 25, D. C.

Marine Veteran Survivors—Director of Personnel, Headquarters, U. S. Marine Corps, Washington 25, D. C.

Coast Guard Veteran Survivors, Commandant, U. S. Coast Guard, Washington 25, D. C.

An Associated Press survey of major cities showed that in some there was a virtual stampede by many veterans to get cash for the securities given them on discharge from the armed services payment for unusel leave. In others, the cashing of bonds was only moderate.

One-Time Robbers Pay Back Bank—in Blood

By The United Press

ATLANTA, Ga.—Prisoners at Atlanta's federal penitentiary, many of them serving sentences for bank irregularities, are paying back the banks they are alleged to have robbed, nor are they paying in dollars and cents. They are paying in blood.

Every week 25 or 30 inmates of the prison make contributions to the Gradly Hospital blood bank, and the precious fluid is saving hundreds of lives each year.

The Grady blood bank is looked upon by other Atlanta hospitals the same way commercial banks look upon the federal reserve bank. When a private hospital's blood supply runs low, it borrows from the bank—and at a high rate of interest. Each patient who receives a transfusion is expected to get two additional donors to give a pint of blood each. By means of this cycle the bank manages to keep up its supply.

One would think that under this system the bank would soon have a large surplus, but much of the blood is not suitable for transfusions. However, it is not wasted. It is converted into plasma, which can be used in many cases where whole blood is not required.

AFTER SLOW START, MARKET SWINGS UP

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 2—Stocks generally swung upward in today's market after considerable early hesitancy.

Mild irregularity and slowdowns followed a fairly active opening. Dealings quickened for an interval in the third hour as steels, motors, rails and assorted industrials pushed forward. Gains of fractions to a point or more were well in the majority near the fourth period although the pace slackened.

The rush of veterans to cash their terminal leave bonds revived inflationary psychology marketwise and inspired purchasing of shares on the idea that business would enjoy at least an intermediate bulge.

In front were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Copperweld Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, N. Y. Central, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Goodrich, International Harvester, Caterpillar Tractor, American Telephone, Western Union, American Smelting, Westinghouse, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, Texas Co. and U. S. Gypsum.

Driving at 50 miles an hour, a motorist sees 14 per cent less than he does in driving at 45 miles an hour.

RNING GIVEN PALESTINE

Partition Would Set nd. Arab World on Fire.

The Associated Press

CCESS Sept 2—The warned today the Holy Land and the Arab sharply under- battle in the UN general assembly which convenes in New York Sept. 16

Emile Ghoury of the Palestine Arab higher committee declared in Jerusalem his organization had "rejected" proposals by the UN special committee to divide Palestine into Arab and Jewish states and admit 150,000 Jewish immigrants during the next two years

He said the Arabs "would use all means at their disposal" to combat the proposals and then released to newsmen an Arab higher committee statement declaring that an attempt by the United Nations to carry out the recommendations would result in violence

Recalls Earlier Threat

Ghoury had said earlier that if Great Britain tried to force partition "we will oppose it by force"

Arab spokesmen promised that the seven-state Arab league would fight the report in the general assembly through its five UN members—Egypt Iraq Syria, Lebanon and Saudi Arabia

Immediately after the UN committee announced its proposals both Arabs and Jews began drawing their battle lines for the assembly fight which is expected to be the most heated yet.

Arab delegations were on their way here from the Middle East. In Zurich, Switzerland leaders of the world Zionist organization were in conference mapping their strategy

Rejects Recommendation

The reaction of Faris Bey El Khouri of Syria, who speaks for the Arab league in most United Nations affairs, was a swift rejection of the committee plan He declared that partition and immigration was "not acceptable at all"

First Jewish reaction to the committee report was mostly favorable. A member of the general Zionist party in Switzerland where Jewish leaders are attending the World Zionist Congress said the UN committee proposals were acceptable as the basis for negotiation.

Although there was no official British comment some British sources cast doubt on the feasibility of the plan while others hinted Britain might comply with the recommendations

The 11-nation UN special committee on Palestine unanimously recommended Holy Land independence from Britain's 25-year-old mandate "at the earliest practicable date"

Son Kills Housekeeper After Father Suicides

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2—Lt. G J Sullivan of the suburban Euclid police department reported today a 20-year-old youth had confessed he shot and killed his father's housekeeper a moment after the father committed suicide

Lt Sullivan quoted the youth, Frank Robertson Jr, 20, as saying he shot the housekeeper because she had driven his father to suicide.

"I lost my head and shot her without realizing what I did," the officer said the boy told him

The father, Frank Robertson Sr, 55, and the housekeeper, Miss Caroline Miles, 30, died last night in a hospital a few minutes after the tragedy in the Robertson home

Lt. Sullivan said formal charges would be filed against the youth today or tomorrow

Military Training

GEN. EISENHOWER, a dark horse who might run away with the Republican presidential nomination, has joined Governor Dewey, a spotlighted favorite, in support of universal military training. Both are at odds with Senator Taft, another favorite, on this issue.

It is helpful and wholesome to get the issue into political discussion. In this country, unless politicians take up public questions, nothing can be settled. Military training apparently is going to be given a thorough airing before next year's nominating convention. It almost certainly will be a factor in the 1948 campaigns.

Gen. Eisenhower, speaking to the American Legion, said it was only a matter of time before other nations recovered their ability to make war. Therefor, he reasoned, "We must gird ourselves so that a predatory aggressor will be aware of the risks he runs...We must be ready, not only to endure and survive the first hard blows of an enemy, but to recover immediately, to strike back, to hit harder than he does—to win."

Opponents of military training evade the real issue, which is whether or not national security is worth the effort, by arguing that the most obvious necessity of security—a reserve of trained manpower—is not everything it is cracked up to be. They take the position of persons rejecting a proposal to organize a community fire department because instances have come to their attention when a community fire department failed to put out the fire. They arrive by a curious perversion of reason at the conclusion that the safest thing, therefore, is to have no fire department at all, because it they did have one it might fail.

Two wars in this century that caught the United States unprepared and forced it to rely on allies to bear the brunt of enemy attack while it trained its manpower with wooden rifles and stovepipe cannon have put the burden of proof in the military training issue on the do-nothings.

One To Shoot At

THE weather fates were in a conspiracy this summer to make a memorable occasion of it. They succeeded.

This will be a summer—this was a summer—that often will be referred to in years to come. It will be, variously, the summer of the big rains, the big heat, the big humidity, the big peaches, the little corn, the little sunshine, the little comfort, the high prices, the low morale and the epidemic of convertibles sold to the easy-money crowd at three prices.

"Yup," old Gramps will titter, in 1967, "that was sure a summer. Everybody was glad when it finally was over. We could hardly wait for Labor day to come to put that one behind us. There was mildew on the floors. The doors stuck. The grass grew right through the dog days, there was so much water. Tempers grow too—short. People got to snapping at each other. Everything was mighty unusual. Philadelphia stayed in the first division, which will give you an idea. If'n you young 'uns are thinking of having a summer for posterity to shoot at, look back at the records for the summer of '47. There was a daffy-down-dilly."

New Wrinkle

ANOTHER thing working men and women aren't being told about the new labor management relations act by union spokesmen is the new wrinkle on the law's enforcement.

To make certain that the persons appointed to the national labor relations board don't get any New Dealish illusions about interpreting the labor management act to suit any arm-twisting minority, congress created a watchdog committee, to be composed of 14 congressmen, half of them from each house.

One of the specified jobs this committee must do is watch the administration and operation of existing federal laws relating to labor relations. That means the NLRB henceforth will be under 24-hour scrutiny and that its members and employes can be called on the carpet at any time to give an account of themselves.

The new wrinkle comes, of course, from congressional impatience with a long line of New Deal agencies, including the NLRB, on occasion, which ran away with the authority congress gave them. Robert N. Denham, the new general counsel, Abe Murdock, the lame-duck Democrat from Utah who will fill one of the two new NLRB jobs, and J. Copeland Gray, who will fill the other, will not be tempted to run away. Denham apparently is in sympathy with the law. "When the smoke has settled and we get a clear, fair and dispassionate view," he said, after his appointment, "I am confident we will find that it will not be nearly as hard to get along with as some people feared." A congressional committee will be breathing down the back of his collar to make sure he continues to feel that way.

Taft-Hartley Law Results

By PAUL MALLON

Sponsors Reported Rather Well Satisfied

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2—You would not know it from news developments, but the initial application period of the Taft-Hartley law has been working out rather satisfactorily to its sponsors. This is the unannounced belief of members of the joint congressional labor investigation and its counsel. Publicity for the law has not only been bad, but almost entirely absent until lately. The news has been monopolized by rebellious actions of unions, and the strict anti-Communist policy laid down by the new national labor relations counsel Robert Denham. You would think there was little else. Yet results so far are judged fairly good, to wit:

Much has been made in publicity of the Ford and other contracts which circumvent the provision of the new law, allowing management to go to court to collect damages. Yet these very same contracts contain union guarantees against wild-cat strikes and other reasons why management might go to court. While employers have contracted away their new rights to enforce their contracts in courts, a great many more contracts have been signed in which acceptable union responsibility has been established. Agreement would not have been on this mutual responsibility basis, had it not been for the new law. After all (sponsors point out), the object of the Taft-Hartley bill was to promote collective bargaining, and if the unions and managemnet agree upon responsibility, it is better than having one side or the other going to court to enforce responsibility:

Printers' Action Outstanding

Refusal of the AFL printers to sign contracts until the law is amended has, naturally enough, achieved greatest public attention. The printers say they will let their locals work under verbal agreements along old lines. They take the position that if they signed they would assume damage responsibilities, and under verbal agreements they do not.

This is wholly a technical question of law. Most courts have held, I think, that verbal agreements are as binding as written contracts. At any rate, court rulings under the Wagner act on the same point do not seem to uphold the printers' position. Wagner act decisions held it was an unfair labor practice for an employer to refuse to reduce to writing an agreement he had made with employes. The Taft-Hartley bill seeks to establish equal rights. If it has been unfair for an employer to refuse to sign in writing, it is likely to be held unfair for a union to do the same thing.

Take Straightforward Stand

The printers say it is not. Straightforwardly, they contend the law requires bargaining collectively, meeting and conferring in good faith in reference to wages and hours, etc, but it adds "such obligation does not compel either party to agree to a proposal or require the making of a concession."

Both unions and the old labor board attacked employers under the old Wagner act who said the same thing. The board and court rulings both held, in effect, that bargaining in good faith meant something more than meeting and refusing to accept the offer of the other side—and the whole effect was that the Wagner act compelled not only bargaining, but the reaching of signed contracts.

The decision in this case no doubt will get to the courts. The AFL printers, otherwise, have simply adopted a policy commonly adopted by closed shop unions which intend to avoid the new law entirely by giving up its benefits. They are strong and think they can survive independent of the law. They will not seek certification from the new board. They fear no other union museling in on them.

The sponsors of the bill, available here now, seem to think nevertheless the courts will crowd the printers eventually into coming in and signing up.

Indeed, the general opinion here rather runs to the conclusion that the privileges of the new law to unions are too great to be ignored, and some optimistic estimations of prospects are generally held. The inside background and reasons for this will be outlined in a subsequent column on the workings of the new law.

Just a Minute

A Noose Ought To Adjourn This Board

Twenty-four directors of the I. G Farben chemical trust are currently on trial at Nuernberg.

Those boys are as guilty as a barkeep with Sen-Sen on his breath.

Hitler may have been history's greatest criminal, but they were accessories before the fact.

Their's is an international coterie which doesn't care who rules the world, so long as it sells him his war materials.

They underwrote Hitler's insanity by giving him ammunition on the installment plan. It is difficult to say which starts the most wars: Lust for power or love of dividends.

That's why the Nuernberg court ought to dispense with the reading of the minutes of the previous meeting and arrange it so the terms of the I. G. Farben board will expire simultaneously, along with the directors.

In fact, the only question in my mind about them is whether they should be hung alphabetically or in order of their seniority.

"The Cold War" With Russia

By WALTER LIPPMANN

AN ANONYMOUS article on "The sources of Soviet Conduct" appeared in the quarterly journal "Foreign Affairs" for July, 1947, and shortly afterward it was republished by "Life" magazine. By its quality alone it would have commanded wide attention. For it was manifestly the work of a man who had observed the Soviet regime closely with a trained eye and an educated mind, and had arrived at a theory as to why the conduct of the Soviet government reflects "no abstract love of peace and stability, no real faith in the possibility of a permanent happy coexistence of the Socialist and capitalist worlds, but rather a continuous, persistent pressure toward the disruption and weakening of all rival influence and rival power."

Almost immediately several of the leading correspondents in Washington identified the author, who signed himself "X," as being Mr. George F. Kennan, who, after a tour of duty at the Embassy in Moscow, had recently been appointed by Secretary Marshall to be the director of the policy planning staff of the department of state. The attribution was not denied. After that Mr. X's article was no longer just one more report on the Soviet regime and what to do about it. It was an event, announcing that the department of state had made up its mind, and was prepared to disclose to the American people, to the world at large, and, of course, also to the Kremlin, the estimates, the calculations and the conclusions on which the department was basing its plans.

Mr. X's article is, therefore, not only an analytical interpretation of the sources of Soviet conduct. It is also a document of primary importance on the sources of American foreign policy—at least of that part of it which is known as the Truman Doctrine.

Viewing It Critically

As such I am venturing to examine it critically in a series of articles of which this is the first.

My criticism, I hasten to say at once, does not arise from any belief or hope that our conflict with the Soviet government is imaginary or that it can be avoided, or ignored, or easily disposed of. I agree entirely with Mr. X that the Soviet pressure cannot "be charmed or talked out of existence." I agree entirely that the Soviet power will expand unless it is prevented from expanding because it is confronted with power, primarily American power that it must respect. But I believe, and shall argue, that the strategical conception and plan which Mr. X recommends is fundamentally unsound, and that it cannot be made to work, and that the attempt to make it work will cause us to squander our substance and our prestige.

We must begin with the disturbing fact, which any one who will re-read the article can verify for himself, that Mr. X's conclusions depend upon the optimistic production that the "Soviet power . . . bears within itself the seeds of its own decay, and that the sprouting of these seeds is well advanced," that if "anything were ever to occur to disrupt the unity and the efficacy of the Party as a political instrument. Soviet Russia might be changed over night (sic) from one of the strongest to one of the weakest and most pitiable of national societies;" and "that Soviet society may well (sic) contain deficiencies which will eventually weaken its own total potential."

Firm In His View

Of this optimistic prediction Mr. X himself says that it "cannot be proved. And it cannot be disproved." Nevertheless, he concludes that the United States should construct its policy on the assumption that the Soviet power is inherently weak and impermanent, and that this unproved assumption warrants our entering "with reasonable confidence upon a policy of firm containment, designed to confront the Russians with unalterable counter-force at every point where they show signs of encroaching upon the interests of a peaceful and a stable world."

I do not find much ground for reasonable confidence in a policy which can be successful only if the most optimistic prediction should prove to be true. Surely a sound policy must be addressed to the worst and hardest that may be judged to be probable, and not to the best and easiest that may be possible.

As a matter of fact, Mr. X himself betrays a marked lack of confidence in his own diagnosis. For no sooner had he finished describing the policy of firm containment with unalterable counterforce at every point where the Russians show signs of encroaching, when he felt he must defend his conclusions against the criticism, one might almost say the wisecrack, that this is a policy of "holding the line and hoping for the best." His defense is to say that while he is proposing a policy of holding the line and hoping for the best, "in actuality the possibilities for American policy are by no means limited to holding the line and hoping for the best." The additional possibilities are not, however, within the scope of the authority of the Department of State: "The aims of Russian communism must appear sterile and quixotic, the hopes and enthusiasms of Moscow's supporters must wane, and added strain must be imposed on the Kremlin's foreign policies" if "the United States can create among the peoples of the world generally the impression of a country which knows what it wants, which is coping successfully with the problems of its internal life and with the responsibilities of a world power, and which has a spiritual vitality capable of holding its own among the major ideological currents of the time."

Aid to "Wishful Thinkers"

This surely is a case of bolstering up the wishful thinking of "hoping for the best"—namely, the collapse of the Soviet power—by an extra strong dose of wishful thinking about the United States. There must be something deeply defective in Mr. X's estimates and calculations. For on his own showing, the policy cannot be made to work unless there are miracles and we get all the breaks.

In Mr. X's estimates there are no reserves for a rainy day. There is no margin of safety for bad luck, bad management, error and the unforeseen. He asks us to assume that the Soviet power is already decaying. He exhorts us to believe that our own highest hopes for ourselves will soon have been realized. Yet the policy he recommends is designed to deal effectively with the Soviet Union "as a rival, not a partner, in the political arena." Do we dare to assume, as we enter the arena and get set to run the race, that the Soviet Union will break its leg while the United States grows a pair of wings to speed it on its way?

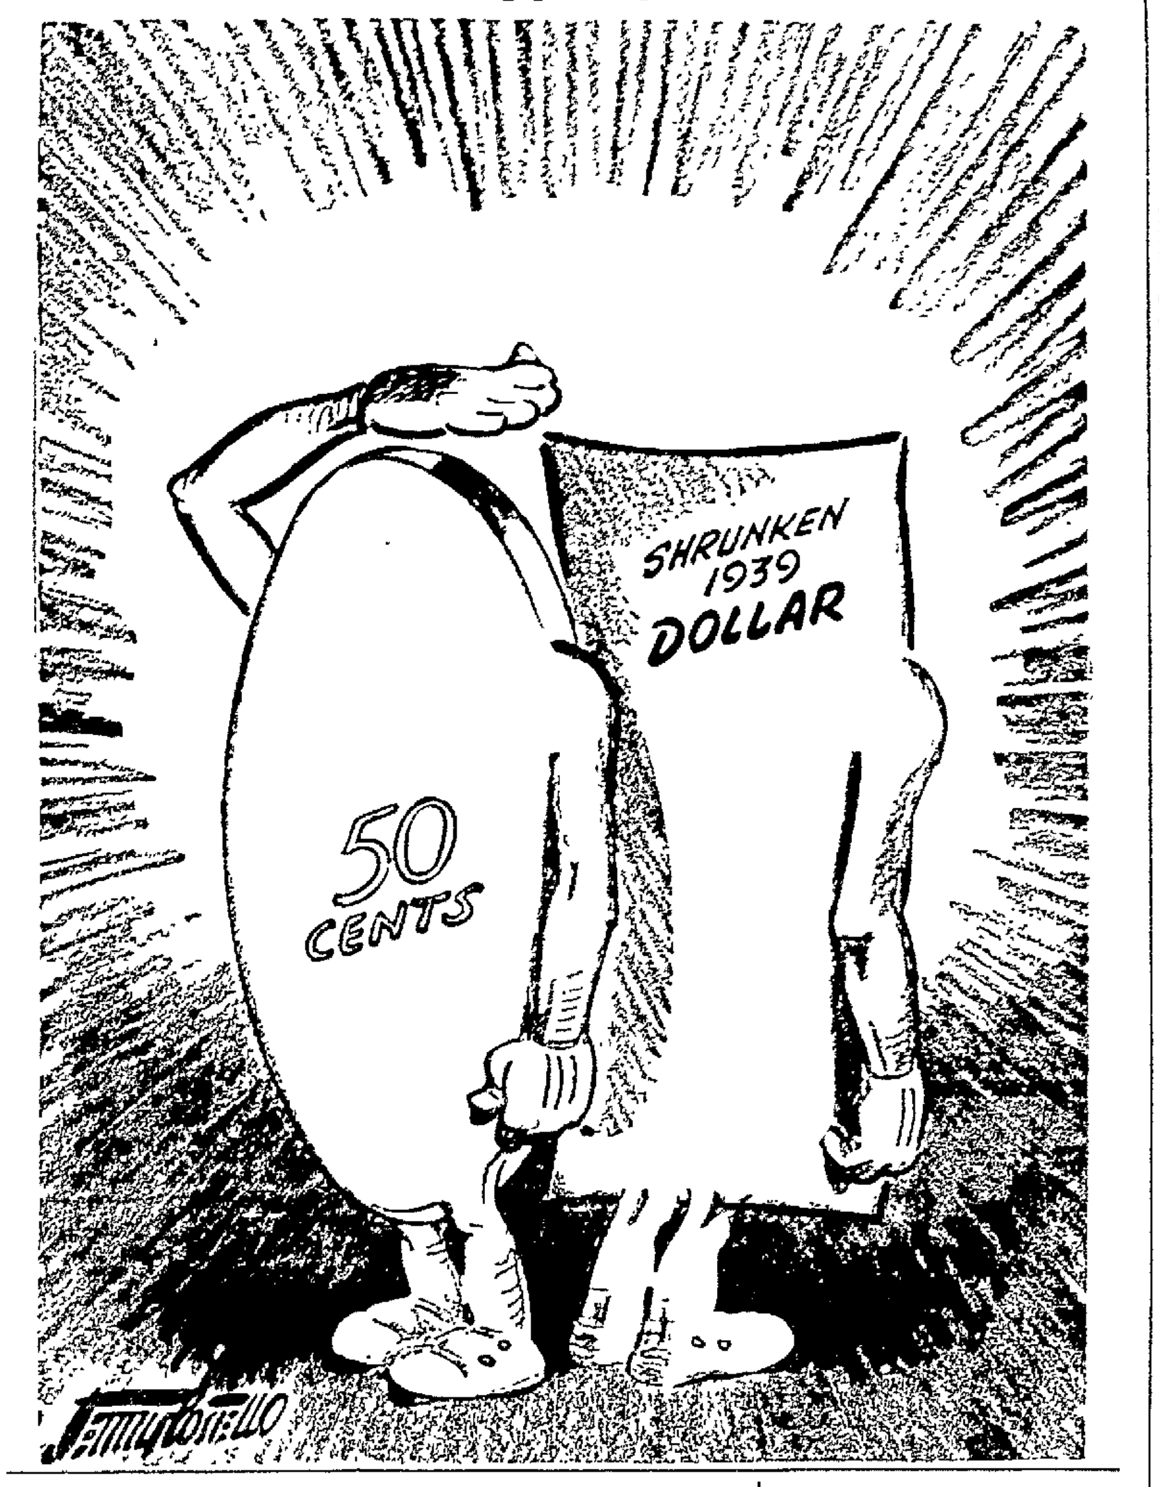
SO BIG



Eisenhower As Candidate

By RAYMOND MOLEY

THE Gallup poll finds that 58 per cent of the voters have no idea whether General Eisenhower is a Democrat or a Republican. That number probably includes General Eisenhower himself. It would not be strange if a man whose career has been rigidly non-political should have some doubts about which party is which. Some of us whose lives have not been spent in the Army have our doubts, too.

But while the question of Eisenhower's party faith may be a point against him among the politicians who will do the nominating, the Gallup poll goes on to show that there is a distinct demand for him among the electorate.

A second question posed by Gallup was, "Would you like to see General Eisenhower become a candidate in 1948?" The answer to this was 35 per cent "yes" and 48 per cent "no." These figures are most significant. They must mean that after all Democrats who are loyal to Truman have voted "no" and after all others who prefer Dewey, Taft and other Republican hopefuls have voted "no," the remainder heavily prefers the general of the Army.

Good News To Some

This will be good news to those who believe the Republicans should nominate Eisenhower. It will be good news to them also that in a breakdown of those who favor Eisenhower, manual workers are stronger for him than are any other voters. Among manual workers Eisenhower has a positive majority of those who expressed opinions.

Gallup suggests that this popularity is due to the successful speeches made by the general to the AFL and CIO conventions. The personal appearances of Eisenhower are invariably successful. He makes friends by his pleasant personality and his wise and tempered utterances.

His acceptance of the presidency of Columbia university should increase rather than decrease his availability as a Republican candidate. The Columbia tradition encourages its president to be active in politics The understanding is that Eisenhower fixed no exact date for the beginning of his Columbia service, but it will be early in 1948. That again improves his chances for a nomination. A big boom for him before next year might well peter out.

Eisenhower's own attitude toward a nomination has been revealed in only a few statements. He has said nothing to bar it, and fairly well-informed people believe he would not refuse.

There is little Eisenhower sentiment among Republican politicians, who are afraid that a candidate will be thrust upon them by public sentiment from outside the party. They want no repetition of the stampede for Willkie in 1940.

Hence, if Eisenhower is to get the nomination, his candidacy will have to be promoted by skillful political leaders within the party. He will also have to start with a delegation. It may well be that Kansas will supply this nest-egg of support. He might also be entered in a primary or two where his popularity might be proved.

In any event, in the present open field for the Republican nomination, the possibility of Eisenhower must not be disregarded. No candidate now has a commanding lead and, if all the omens are correct, no one will have such a lead before the convention.

And if—as is likely—foreign affairs will be tight or critical in 1948, Eisenhower may well be the answer chosen by Republicans to the Democratic plea to keep Truman and Marshall.

The Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

The Crime of the Year

The foulest, wackiest and most wholly unjustified murder of the year has just occurred. Summer, 1947, has been shot ruthlessly and prematurely. The coroner's verdict, indorsed by millions of American vacationists and summer resort businessmen, as filed today, follows:

"Killed from behind by Zillie Kustom, alias Cockeyed Tradition, alias Calendar Habit without warning and on the very moment that she entered the corridor of September. The lady had every right to live out her usual life expectancy; she was never in more beautiful shape or more prepared to complete her mission of bringing warmth, recreation and pleasure to the American people

"She had every reason to prolong this beneficial and labor lightening work, but she had hardly put her foot on the threshold before her dimwit assailant stepped out from behind the potted palms, flourished an old law marked 'Designation of Labor Day,' and, with a leer shot her down mercilessly.

The bullet entered her back and went through her heart, passing also through the heads and hopes of countless proprietors of vacation hotels amusement parks, ice-cream manufacturers and people who had paid record rentals for 1947 summer cottages. The latter's hysterical cries of 'Who did that?' and 'We wuz robbed' filled the air everywhere."

The report continues:

"There are eye witnesses who say the lady was not unwarned and should have been fully prepared. In a sense this is so, since reference to the 1947 calendar in this case would have shown her that September first came on Monday and that she could not expect to survive beyond midnight of that day. The fact is, however, that she could not really believe an intelligent people in a land supposed to have normal horsesense and a keen perception of relaxation possibilities would let themselves be run by any such arbitrary custom and permit her to be finished off in such a ruthless manner.

"I find she stepped over the threshold gay, confident and unsuspecting. I further find she had gone all out to give the people rest and good clean fun over the short span permitted. It is my judgment that she was beloved by millions, few of whom could regard her execution as short of murder in the first degree. And I fear reprisals, particularly by the school kids of America, who are sore as pups.

"The only witnesses examined who showed no deep resentment over the crime were a few theater operators, fur coat salesmen, coal dealers, etc. There is, in fact, some suspicion it was all a plot by the red flannel underwear industry."

The report concludes

"I accordingly find the summer of 1947 a victim of premeditated, uncalled-for, screwbally murder in the first degree at the hands of the aforesaid Zillie Kustom, alias Cockeyed Tradition alias Calendar Habit, and I hope he gets the works"

No verdict in history ever met with so much cheering and hat tossing. (Forecast for the next two weeks: The most delightful vacation weather of the year.)

Persecuted by Animals

By TRUMAN TWILL

According to everybody else who writes about them, household pets are always cute little devils that brighten the lives of their masters with innocent antics and merry ways. They are not like the household pets at the Twillery—scheming saboteurs of peace and contentment always alert for opportunities to bedevil the humans who take care of them.

Offhand, we can recall of no other pet fancier whose bird dog waltzes up to the breakfast table, slaps down his paw like a rounder ordering a slug of whisky and comes up with a piece of jellied toast sticking to it. Or of one whose pampered tomcat takes over the best bed in the house and snores on it from morning till night, vociferously resenting intruders.

We don't recall that other animal lovers rhapsodize about pet fish that spend the night lurking just beneath the surface of the water, making horrible sucking noises as if gasping for air but in reality rubbing raw the tortured conscience of restless sleepers who forgot to feed the dumb things.

Nor can we recall that pet enthusiasts go into spasms of pleasure because over-enthusiastic mutts take off and sail through the bottom panels of screen doors, forgetting the screen is there; or that call up some slumbering instinct that enables them to throw themselves bodily across the legs of human beings, knocking same to the floor face down and shattered.

We never hear anything about the ineffable delights of white rats, waltzing mice, or grunting guinea pigs underfoot—part of the ordeal that goes with playing host to non-paying guests of the animal kingdom. There also is a conspiracy of silence about pet owners who sit up for errant animals to come home, all bushed out and good for nothing, the pets, that is, not the owners.

No one has anything to say about horses that take delight in biting off the arms of unwary saps, or planting a steel-shod hoff in soft, fat human faces. To hear the animal lovers tell about all these things, the lower members of the animal kingdom that impose on humans for food, lodging and entertainment are jolly, friendly characters. They never make a false move, never eat up a chair, walk on tables, tip over lamps, swipe food, break up property, violate the sanitary regulations and need to be kicked in their gleaming teeth for making nuisances of themselves.

Sometime we'd like to find out for sure whether the animals in our life happen to be more obdurate than the animals in other people's lives.

port To Shem and Ham

By JOSEPH and STEWART ALSOP

…N, Sept. 2—There … outright as- … mere routine at- … this country to … Marshall plan … ne, now being … ucted in Paris … s the only safe- … general chaos The … shall plan should … in the passionate … Shem Ham and … ng Father Noah … ing to finish the … oon

… program for co- … struction of west- … actually nearing … According to Ameri- … ceding a watching … representatives of the … nations have suc- … t one, very natural … have not pruned … requirements for the … es and goods which are needed to rebuild Europe's ruins.

Thus the requests in the preliminary Paris drafts are inflated. They call for more than $12 billion in the first year of the Marshall plan's operation, and just under $30 billion for the four years in which the plan is to be completed.

Unattractive Role

As every one knows, this is why the state department's top planner, George Kennan, has flown to Paris The American government wishes to avoid the invidious role of budget maker for Europe, which would require slicing each of the 16 nations' individual requests to produce a reasonable total. At the same time, the administration is determined that the total shall be reasonable, in order to prevent an angry public reaction here. "Reasonable" is defined as $6 to $8 billion for the crucial first year, and $15 to $20 billion over-all for the completion of the plan.

Work is also going on in Washington, meanwhile, in extraordinary obscurity. Yet several strikingly interesting ideas have already emerged in the American Marshall plan committees headed by Secretary of Commerce Harriman, Secretary of the Interior Krug and the President's chief economist, Dr. Nourse.

Matter of Administration

Perhaps the most significant of the ideas now being batted back and forth relates to the American administration of the Marshall plan. Britain and the European nations are organizing committees which will supervise integrated reconstruction of western European fuel sources, transport, communications, agricultural production and so on. There must be some American agency to channel funds and goods to the European users, and to see that our funds and goods produce the desired return of stability and prosperity.

This is a complicated task, requiring the greatest freedom of action and administrative strength in the American Marshall plan agency. For example, western Europe desperately needs imports of British coal. Increased British coal production can only be secured by an inducement system, offering the miners more food for each extra ton The miners themselves have just swept away one obstacle, by resoundingly voting down the production slowdown schemes of their once-dominant Communist leader, Arthur Horner.

A major obstacle still remains, in the form of the obstinate opposition of the other British trades union leaders to any extras being offered to the miners. The British government wishes to overcome this obstacle also The correct pressure, tactfully applied from Washington, would give just the needed extra political impetus to the cabinet. And the British general public would welcome the result.

Serves Other Purposes

This kind of quiet American maneuver is equally needed to reopen the blocked inland water transport routes from the Ruhr, and for innumerable other purposes Equally, the American agency administering the Marshall plan should have freedom to negotiate in many other fields Some nations will need cash grants, since loans which cannot be repaid are the most trouble-making form of self-delusion From others it is possible to secure long-term contracts for delivery of raw materials for American strategic stockpiling And from still others, viable loan agreements may be obtained. None of this can be written into a law

When the Marshall plan is presented to congress, however, the congressional impulse will be to write into the law every kind of crippling restriction, specification and limitation How is this natural congressional impulse to be turned to good account?

The answer being bruited about in Washington is an entirely novel constitutional expedient. If this answer is finally adopted by President Truman and Secretary Marshall, the American agency administering the Marshall plan will be an independent government corporation

The corporation will be clothed with the broadest powers, and headed by a single executive Thus freedom of maneuver and decisiveness in negotiation will be assured But like any corporation, the Marshall plan agency will also have its board of directors And on this board, with full overall powers, half of the members will be senators and representatives appointed by the president pro tem of the senate and the speaker of the house. Thus congressional control, through thoroughly informed delegates of the congress, will also be assured The idea seems excellent, if only the White House can be persuaded to swallow its sense of prerogative

Long Skirts Giving U. S. Government Its Hem Troubles, Too

By DOROTHY WILLIAMS
United Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept 2—Even the clothing experts of the department of agriculture are having hem trouble

The new long-skirt styles have the clothing experts of the department's bureau of home economics casting about for means to aid those women who can't or won't buy the new longer skirts

The experts say that in most cases it's easy to lengthen a skirt an inch or two but it's hard to keep the old hem crease from showing Flared or extremely short skirts present special problems.

Here's how Miss Margaret Smith, whose handiness with a needle rates her as a bureau expert, would try to overcome these difficulties.

She advises taking a tip from tailors to eliminate telltale hemline creases. Wet the crease line on the wrong side, turn the goods to the right side and roll the crease back and forth between the fingers. Then press on the wrong side.

"Rolling the crease is the best way," Miss Smith said. "Dry cleaning or steam pressing usually won't remove the old hem mark"

Before trying to lengthen a flared or circular skirt, remove the hem ribbon, she advises. She skirt bottom is usually gathered into the ribbon a bit to taper it for the old shorter length"

When the skirt must be let out to its full extent, she advocates seam binding, facing material or both. If the fabric is heavy, the seam biding may be sewed directly to the skirt edge Then turn the binding up so that about one-fourth inch of the dress fabric is on the underside of the skirt.

If the fabric is lightweight, a facing about one-inch wide is needed to give body to the skirt edge.

DETROLA SALES HIT 53 MILLION MARK

Special to The Star

DETROIT, Sept. 2—Consolidated sales of $53,028,515.81 for the nine months ended July 31 by International Detrola Corporation and subsidiaries were reported today by C. Russell Feldmann, president and board chairman (Universal Cooler of Marion is one of International Detrola's divisions).

"These sales, which are more than double the 1946 figure of $25,790,435.91 for the same period, reflect principally the addition of our steel and coal operations and also the completed acquistion of Universal Cooler Company of Canada, formerly a partly owned subsidiary," Feldmann said Most of the gain is in steelmaking, he indicated.

"To support the open hearth, rolling mill and steel fabricating operations acquired about a year ago, we have within the present year purchased and brought into production a blast furnace which, by supplying critically needed pig iron, has further enlarged our steel activities," he explained Steel sales now represent about 32 per cent of Detrola's entire business, which embraces manufacturing divisions in refrigeration and air conditioning, home and automobile radios, phonographs, special machinery, aircraft power plants and sub-assemblies and other products, Feldmann disclosed

The corporation, which has plants in Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, California and Ontario, Canada, had total sales of $40,810,028.22 for all of fiscal year 1946, and net profit of $1,012,123.92

MRS. T. E. BROWNLEE who is moving to California in the near future, was honored with a handkerchief shower and bridge given by members of the Clionian club Thursday evening at the Federation Home. Bridge awards were won by Mrs. Jules Kepling, Mrs. Frank Barnhill and Mrs. William H. Guy. Tables arranged for dessert held bouquets of fuchsia and white four o'clocks and fuchsia colored napkins and the ice-cream molds were miniature trunks upon which were inscribed "Burbank" where Mrs. Brownlee will make her home in California, and "bon voyage." The hostess committee included Mrs. Harold E. Bracy, chairman, Mrs. Harry L. Smith and Mrs. Gladys Arter.

Committees For Club Picnic Are Appointed

COMMITTEES for the annual picnic of all members of the federated clubs in Marion and surrounding communities to be held Tuesday, Sept. 9, at the Federation Home have been announced by the general chairman, Mrs. Rayl B. Conyers.

A meeting of the general picnic committee to discuss final plans for the affair is to be held Wednesday at 2 p. m. at the Federation Home.

Reservations are to be made by Monday, Sept. 8, and are to be phoned to Mrs. Edgar Barnhart in Marion or to Mrs. B. H. Gast in Prospect.

Miss Mary Katherine Smith is serving as assistant chairman with Mrs. Conyers. The evening's activities will include a picnic supper at 5:30, an auction sale of baked goods and other entertainment.

The committees are as follows: finance, Mrs. Fillmore Young, chairman, Mrs. G. E. Frank, Mrs. Carl Sawyer and Mrs. Howard Geer; reservations, Miss Mary Katherine Smith, chairman, Mrs. Edgar Barnhart and Mrs. B. H. Gast; refreshments, Miss Helen Bowe, chairman, Mrs. W. O. Within the Means of Every Family . . .

While the Hughes Funeral Home offers a service that is second to none, it also can furnish a funeral to meet the needs of any family. Sometimes this becomes important when cost is a consideration.

One reason why we can offer so much and still keep costs down is the low overhead that comes from personal effort on the part of the management. Another reason is that we realize there are many fine families in Marion who are unable to pay lavish prices for funerals.

These are things to remember when the need for funeral service arises.

Goes To Kirkpatrick

John O. Thrawl of Mansfield is the superintendent at Kirkpatrick. He has held similar positions in Morgan, Mahoning and Ross counties and has taught in Richland county. At Kirkpatrick he will teach mathematics and science.

Only two openings remain unfilled on the county staff. One is an instructor for social science at Kirkpatrick another is a music teacher for Meeker and Claridon. The latter instructor will care for both schools.

The number of students enrolling in the county schools will not be known Mr. Mills said until some time next week. An estimated 205 first grade students are expected to start this year.

Mr. Mills also announced the starting of a veterans training school in vocational agriculture at Meeker in October. Lawrence Harmon will be the instructor. Another class will open at Prospect as soon as the approval is given by the board of education.

Each of the veterans' classes have 25 enrollees and they meet every two weeks for two hour classes. Any ex-GI who is eligible to qualify is requested to call at Mr. Mill's office for an application blank. All blanks should be returned to the office this week.

Many Schools Open

Throughout the state some 1,310,000 school children were starting back to school today, according to an Associated Press report from Columbus.

George E. Roudebush, Columbus public school's superintendent has appealed to all motorists to exercise caution in driving, especially in the behalf of the beginning pupils.

Roudebush's charges total approximatly 41,000 and he contended that most of their minds will be concentrated on going to school.

"They won't be thinking much of traffic," Roudebush asserted. "These youngsters are impulsive."

Fliers will compete in these events: free flight gas engine, rubber—both cabin and stick, towline and hand launched gliders, and control line gas engine stunt.

Two public address systems will be in operation at the airport to acquaint contestants and spectators with the progress of all events.

Plans are being laid to make the Marion plane meet a recognized annual affair for air enthusiasts. Mr. Blank said he hopes to increase the award values next year, but such action, he says, is entirely dependent upon the enthusiasm evidenced by contestants and spectators Sept. 14.

There was considerable private controversy when the judges took first place away from Lt. Col. Benjamin S. Preston Jr., of Washington, D. C., because he cut a pylon on the second lap. The jets flew a 22-mile course.

Ken Knight of Walnut Ridge, Ark., won a special race for P-63 Kingcobra planes with a speed of 352.1 miles an hour and wan $2,500.

Race officials estimated paid attendance at 71,000, bringing the two-day total to about 130,000. Saturday's program was washed out by thunderstorms except for the Bendix trophy race from Van Nuys, Calif., to Cleveland, a race that started before the concellation.

Paul Mantz, Hollywood stunt flier and plane collector, won for the second straight year with an average of 460 miles an hour for the 2,050 mile dash. He bettered his previous mark by 25 miles an hour.

Loop Bowling Gets Under Way For New Season at Two Centers

Today has been set as the official opening date of the 1947-1948 bowling season and both Marion alleys are swinging into it with a full schedule of activity planned this season.

Each of the recreation centers, the Palace located on West Center street just west of Orchard street, and the Marion, located on Prospect street between Center and Church streets will have at least two leagues rolling each night, Monday through Friday. Saturdays and Sundays will be held for open competition. The Palace will open at 1 p. m. and the Marion at noon. League activity will in most cases start at 7 p. m.

Both of the alleys have installed refreshment and lunch counters. All of the eight lanes at the Marion are new this season.

Night Shift League

The Marion Power Shovel Co. league for night shift workers got under way this afternoon at the Palace to inaugurate the season. Tonight at the Palace the Shovel league for the day shift will roll at 7 p. m., and the McMillen Feed league and the Home league will take the alleys for the latter part of the evening.

League activity is starting at the Marion tomorrow night with the Ladies All-Star league scheduled for the first shift and the Marion Engineer Depot loop scheduled to follow.

Wednesday night at the Palace the Osgood league will be followed by the Business Men's league.

Thursday the Classic league gets underway at the Palace. A 12 team league, its bowlers must have posted an average of at least 170 in league bowling last season. Hap Applegett is president of the league, Cliff Phillians vice president, and Maynard Snyder, secretary-treasurer. The list of bowlers who will roll with teams in the league includes Leo Oberlander and John Steinmetz, whose averages of 190 were highest at the Palace last season, and Johnny Rife, who posted last year's high score, a 298, one of the highest ever rolled in Marion.

Thursday Leagues

Thursday the Universal Cooler and the Fraternal leagues will roll at the Prospect street center.

Friday the Commercial and Industrial leagues will roll at the Palace and the City league and Universal Cooler league will roll at the Marion.

Monday the Ohio Public Service Co. and the "ladies" leagues will roll at the Palace and the Home league and the Standard Oil league will roll at the Marion alleys.

Tuesday night at the Marion the Men's All-Star league, which was one of last season's hottest loops starts activity. The Automotive league will bowl following.

In addition to the evening bowling a "ladies" league for housewives will hold sessions at the Palace Thursday afternoons. Hull's Grill and Universal Cooler are each sponsoring a team in the traveling league, which will make the Palace their headquarters.

Milk and its products comprise more than 25 per cent of the foods estimated consumed annually by the average American.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the old stomach and the ever-changing blood need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

A RUB-A-DUB-DUB

THREE MEN IN A TUB

There isn't always room for one more!

As you know, present restrictions prevent users of other fuels from changing to gas for heating. These restrictions must continue next winter. The Gas Company regrets this action, but it is essential in order to protect existing customers. — Even though there is an abundant supply of gas in the fields (conservatively 50 years supply), thousands of tons of pipe, huge compressors and many other materials are required to transport gas to the many communities in our area. Suppliers have been unable to fill our orders and as a result we have been unable to increase the volume of gas needed to meet the great demands. Be assured, however, that we are taking every step to give you better gas service.

IF YOU HAVE GAS HEAT—

Have your equipment checked now! For safety, efficiency and dependability. Replace old outmoded burners and furnaces with modern gas equipment. You'll be helping yourself by saving money and fuel and at the same time you'll enjoy the comfort and good health provided by modern gas heating. Now is the time to Replace! You cannot afford to wait until cold weather and risk a breakdown that will make you uncomfortable or endanger the health of your family. Call the Sales Department and request a complete check up on your present gas heating system.

GANDHI BEGINS FAST AGAINST VIOLENCE

By The Associated Press

CALCUTTA, India, Sept. 2 — News that Mohandas K. Gandhi was embarked on a new fast to continue "until sanity returns to Calcutta" spread like wildfire today through this great city, where Moslem-Hindu communal hostility erupted in bloodshed again yesterday.

People from non-curfew areas trekking toward Gandhi's residence shouting: "Long live Gandhi *  victory to the Mahatma." A spokesman in the group declared: "These demonstrations are a token of atonement for the violence around Gandhi's residence Sunday night and an expression of hope that he may revoke his determination to fast."

Police said the number of killings during the day yesterday was estimated "in two figures and the injured in three figures." The Indian national ambulance corps said unofficially the toll was 50 dead and 371 injured.

Gandhi's announcement of his fast said:

"An urgent summons has called me to Punjab. But since the Calcutta bubble seems burst, with what face can I go to Punjab?

"The weapon which has hitherto proved infallable to me is fasting. What my word in person cannot do, my fast may.

"If my fasting touches the swarming elements of Calcutta it will do likewise in the Punjab also.

"I therefore begin fasting from 8:15 p. m. Monday and end only if and when sanity returns to Calcutta.

"As usual I would permit myself to add salt and soda bicarbonate to the water I may wish to drink during the fast."

Chakravarthi Rajacopalachari, a leader of the dominantly Hindu All-India Conress party and governor of West Bengal, pleaded with Gandhi until almost midnight last night but failed to deflect him from his decision.

LA GUARDIA IS ILL

By The Associated Press

DEATH IN THE ARENA. Manuel Rodriguez, known as Manolete, idol of the bullfighting world, lies mortally wounded under the hooves of "Islero," a Mauri bull, which gored the matador at Linares, Spain (Aug. 28). The bull, with two "banderillas," finger-thick sticks with barbs, and Manolete's "stoge" (sword), still in his thick back, died shortly after from a short thrust by Manolete, made after the fighter received fatal goring. He died in hospital next day.

Five Autos Involved In Two Minor Mishaps

Cars driven by Harold W. Rider, 35, of 665 Delaware avenue and by William S. Renwick, 17, of 254 South Main street collided at 7:30 a. m. Monday at East Center and Main streets. According to the police report, both cars were waiting to make the turn south into Main street when the Renwick car backed into the Rider car while giving clearance to an automobile approaching from the opposite direction. Little damage was reported.

A car driven by Marie Hooper, 36, of Morral was telescoped between two other cars about 7:47 p. m. Sunday at North Main and Hazen streets while waiting on a traffic light. The Hooper car, in line behind a car driven by Theodore R. Fischer, 42, of Castalia, was struck from the rear by a third car driven by Louis M. Reinhart, 21, of 350 Fahey street. According to the police report, Reinhart said his foot slipped off the brake pedal as he approached the cars waiting on the light. The rear of the first car, the front end of the Hooper car and the front of Reinhart car were damaged. None was injured.

Schoolgirl Found Slain In Field Near Pittsburgh

By The Associated Press

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 2 — The nude body of a 14-year-old schoolgirl, found at the edge of a lonely ravine with a bullet wound behind the left ear, was identified today as that of Betty Jane Yacobet, Deputy Coroner R. J. Freyvogel reported.

Freyvogel said a sister, Mrs. Rose Mitchell of Port Vue, identified the attractive brunette the day before she was to have started school in the ninth grade at nearby McKeesport. The deputy coroner said Betty Jane probably was killed Saturday night or early Sunday.

Betty Jane's body, her head wrapped tightly in a short nylon petticoat was found yesterday by a Fayette county couple who were sitting in a parked car in Versailles township. They were Robert Rosinski, of Fairbank, and Miss Katherine Hmura. Rosinki said he found the body aft. leaving the car to investigate the actions of two small dogs in the vicinity.

Bedlam Holds Sway In California Town As Cyclists Race

By The Associated Press

RIVERSIDE, Calif., Sept. 2—Police estimated that 6,000 motorcyclists converged on this town for a hectic Labor Day weekend in which downtown streets were turned into race tracks, 100 persons were picked up by officers and in the general celebrating there were a half dozen accidents with two deaths.

Chief of Jolice J. A. Bennett, who ordered all his officers on duty for 48 hours, said the riders roared around town at breakneck speed and that a dozen persons were jailed on charges of drunkenness, fighting or failure to disperse.

The occasion was a program of racing billed as national champonships by the American Motorcycle Association, with the California highway patrol as co-sponsor. Chief Bennett said it was the race followers who caused the trouble and not the racers themselves. Police finally blocked off two blocks of the main thoroughfare and alowed the cyclists to cut loose with impromptu getaway races and spin-a-cycle riding.

Gloria Bigness, 18, of Riverside, was injured fatally Saturday night when a motorcycle on which she was a passenger collided with an automobile. Royer La Von Meats, a motorcyclist, was killed last night when his machine collided with an automobile.

OWENS, OBERLANDER REACH GOLF FINALS

R. C. Owens and L. E. Oberlander moved into the finals of Country club championship play as the result of semi-final victories last week.

Owens eliminated Barney Buettin two up, Buettin's short game failing him after the match stayed even for the first 12 holes.

Play between Oberlander and Herb Petrich was heated for admittance to the finalist's circle. After being three down on the tenth hole, Petrich pared 11 and 12 and birdied on the thirteenth to even the match. Oberlander came back to take the next three holes and the match.

Finals will be played next Sunday, the first 18 holes commencing at 9:30 a. m. and the second at 2:30 p. m. A large crowd is expected to witness the final 18 holes.

In the B class of club championship play Robert Cripps is to meet Buddy Burke in semi-finals and Dr. W. A. Dennis will meet Paul Schwemley.

Other activity at the club over the weekend were a two-men-best-ball full-handicap tournament won by George Howser and Larry Lazear and a mixed two-ball foursome won by Mrs. C. K. Carter and Charles Gerber.

Others high in the best-ball event were W. J. Rowley and Dr. C. A. Sheehee, William Freck and Maurice Cornell, Barney Buettin and Wayne Jenkins, C. O. Brown and D. A. Howard, Dr. A. J. Wagner and John Artopoues, R. C. Owens and Herb Petrich, Leo Groll and John Pickerel, J. M. Harmon and F. M. Sage, and Robert Graham and L. E. Oberlander.

Others high in the two-ball foursome were Mrs. C. A. Sheehee and Dr. C. A. Sheehee, Mrs. Charles Gerber and C. K. Carter, Mrs. George Howser and Harry Lazear, and Mrs. Paul Hunt and John Waddell.

5 Kinds of Fruit Grown On "Invented" Tree

By The United Press

TWIN FALLS, Idaho — Five different kinds of rruit grow on one tree in the back-yard orchard of a Twin Falls gardener, H. S. Post, whose hobby of amateur gardening and orchard work has led him to "invent" a new tree.

One tree produces peaches, apricots, prunes, plums and nectarines. Another supplies three different kinds of cherries and another bears six separate varieties of plunes.

Post says, "It's just simple grafting which anyone can do."

The Idaho farmer's ingenuity has transformed the few square yards in back of his house into an orchard bearing 30 different kinds of fruit plus a large assortment of flowers and vegetables.

Besides his "combination" trees, Post has succeeeded in raising trees which ordinarily don't grow in Idaho. He has pecan, filbert, almond, English walnut and a persimmon tree.

Liquor Agent Reported Thrown Out of Tavern

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 2—The state liquor control department has launched an official investigation of police reports that one of its inspectors, while on duty, was beaten and thrown out of a drinking spot in Portsmouth.

The agent, James Mears, 51, of Wood county, was taken to a Portsmouth hospital Sunday morning with lacerations of the face, an ear cut and hand lacerations.

Mears said he was assaulted after he went to the Oasis bar and grill and discovered whisky and beer being sold after hours (after 2:30 a. m.).

Lt. Floyd Moon, chief of the liquor department's enforcement division, said that Perley Rubrake, agent-in-charge at Portsmouth, had been instructed to give him a written report on the affair by tomorrow morning.

Moon said he would decide, after reading Rubrake's report, what further steps he will take.

Moon reported Portsmouth police were cooperating in the inquiry.

Garage Bandits Use Assembly Line Tactics

By The United Press

NEW YORK — Three bandits improvised an assembly line to rush Max Kanz, 58, from the front to the rear of his garage before robbing the place.

Kanz told police he was standing on the sidewalk when a man approached and said he wanted to buy a light fuse for his automobile. As Kanz turned, a second man tripped him and hit him with a tire iron. A third man jumped on him.

Then all three hustled him to a rear room, tied him up and locked the door. By the time he had freed himself, the safe had been jimmied and $150 taken.

U.S. REJECTS RUSS PROTEST OVER REICH

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2 — The United States has firmly rejected Russia's protest against a British-American decision to step up the level of industry in their occupied zones of Germany.

A note delivered to the Russian embassy in Washington Friday said the United States government "feels justified in pursuing objectives which have been commonly agreed in making arrangement for that purpose with any other occupying power willing to work toward the common end."

The U. S. and Britain announced agreement last week to raise the industrial output of their economically merged zones to approximately the 1936 standard.

Russia had vigorously protested this move, claiming it violated the Potsdam agreement which pledged the Big Four to treat Germany as a single economic unit.

"The Soviet government is certainly aware of the importance of German production to the economic rehabilitation of Europe. This is particularly true in respect of coal from the Ruhr area of Germany," the American note, made public today by the state department, said.

Refuting the Soviet contention, the United States charged the Russian government with failure to carry out the Potsdam agreement of 1945.

Boy Who Let Air From Police Car Tire in Court

Six boys appeared in Judge Edward Ruzzo's juvenile court today to answer charges ranging from the theft of a baseball to letting the air out of the tires on a police cruiser. They were brought into court by city police.

A 16-year-old boy, charged with letting the air out of a police cruiser's tires at Lincoln park and the use of obscene language Thursday, was sent to the county detention home and later will be taken to the bureau of juvenile research at Columbus for observation, Judge Ruzzo said. Three boys, aged 13, 14 and 15, charged with damaging property on Delaware avenue yesterday, were released to their parents and the case dismissed for lack of evidence.

Two youths, whose ages are 15 and 16, charged with the theft of a baseball at Lincoln park Saturday night were placed on probation to their parents. Apparently, Judge Ruzzo said, they wanted a ball for their baseball team. Judge W. Dexter Hazen, president of the Marion Baseball club, in an off-the-record statement, said he would give the boys a ball if they came after it.

Automobile and Truck Collide on Davids St.

An automobile driven by Marshall E. Conner, 19, of 190 East Mark street was badly damaged in an accident on Davids street at 9:20 a. m. today. Conner, driving south, collided with a truck driven by Carroll E. Cogan, 15, of 379 South State street, who was backing out of a drive.

Cogan was ordered to appear at juvenile court at 4 p. m. today. He holds a restricted driver's license, police reported, and was involved in an accident at 4:03 p. m. Saturday, when his car collided with a car driven by Harry M. Robbins, 49, of 549 East Church street. In that accident, Robbins was charged with leaving the scene of an accident and was ordered to appear in municipal court at 2 p. m. today.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MEETING IN GALION

Special to The Star

GALION Sept. 2—Richland county's invitation was accepted for the sixty-third annual state convention of the Christian Endeavor Union to be held the last week in June 1948, when the holiday week-end fall leaders' conference of the Ohio Christian Endeavor Union was held in Galion at First Reformed church. Approximately 100 leaders from throughout the state came to Galion for the conference, while about 350 were present for theh Sunday evening program for which Rev. James A. Thomas, pastor of the Eastminster Presbyterian church of Toledo, was the speaker.

In his address Sunday evening Rev Thomas gave a meaning to each letter of the word "Leader," as being levity, energy, ambition, determination and religion.

The conference was opened here at 1 p m Saturday, with registration At 5 o'clock, a devotional service was conducted by Rev M L C Gephart of First Church of God, Wooster. After a picnic supper at Heise park, an evening meeting was held at 8 o'clock in the church Harold A Smith of Wooster, president of the Ohio Christian Endeavor Union, presided Singing was led by Arthur Holt of Columbus devotions were led by the Carroll County leaders, and the message was brought by Rev. Charles E. F. Howe staff officer of the International Society.

At 10 a. m Saturday an outdoor song service was led on the public square by Arthur Holt.

The Sunday morning program was opened at 8 o'clock with a quiet hour led by Tuscarawas county group After the 9 30 Sunday school hour, Rev Clair E Beatty of Columbus, executive secretary of the state organization, spoke.

Dinner was served Sunday noon by the Dorcas society at the church for which Thomas Hughes of Toronto, Ohio, vice president, was toastmaster The song service which opened the Sunday afternoon session was led by Faithe and Elaine Berry of Galion, with Vivian Armstrong of Galion at the piano. Rev George Cole, director of the Ohio Christian Youth Council, gave a report of the Oslo-World Conference which he attended in Norway A Christian Endeavor meeting was conducted at 7 p m. Sunday evening by the Richland County Endeavorers with Mrs Harold Sams of Plymouth leading

The conference was brought to a close Monday afternoon following a dinner at First Methodist church for the delegates

Chinese Flock to Mart To Buy Elephant Tusks

By The United Press

HONGKONG — A shipment of about 600 elephant tusks—largest since the war — arrived here recently and attracted buyers from all over China who are again looking to Hongkong as the distributing point for ivory in the Far East.

The tusks, ranging in length from two to eight feet, come from East Africa and are imported by Indian merchants Before the war, ivory dealers from China, Formosa and Japan bought their supplies here, but postwar internal upheavals and loss of the tourist traffic has greatly diminished the demand for ivory goods.

"FIGHT" MARKS LABOR TALKS

Celebrates Own Day with Pledge of Effort To Kill Taft-Hartley Act.

By The Associated Press

Fighting words marked organized labor's observance of its own holiday this year as leaders pledged an all-out battle to strike the Taft-Hartley act from the statute books.

CIO President Philip Murray declared American workers are in a "fighting mood" And AFL President William Green asserted that 'labor is rallying its forces to fight against oppression and depression.'

Murray, speaking by radio from Kansas City, hammered at the economic consequences he foresees

"I want to say x x x most emphatically," he declared, "that the nation is heading toward another depression — a depression that could easily make the last one appear to be only a minor economic setback.

"I am not saying that another depression is just around the corner," the CIO chief continued "I am saying that the present trend of higher profits and smaller and smaller purchasing power must be halted and reversed if we are to avoid economic chaos in the future'

Sees Labor Determination

As for the fight he said is ahead, Murray pictured American working men and women as "determined that their unions will not be weakened"

Green, addressing a Labor Day rally at Chicago's Soldier Field, pledged that the AFL's fight will be waged "not with ill-considered strikes, but with ballots, in the peaceful, democratic, and American way"

Green laid down this five-point program for 1948 as "worth fighting for":

▶Reduction of the cost of living "to a more reasonable level' with price-fixing monopolies 'crushed'' and inflation halted

▶Measures to maintain full, year-round employment at "decent' wages

▶A housing program "which will encourage and speed up the construction of millions of new and comfortable homes"

▶An increase in the present 40-cent an hour minimum wage in interstate industry

▶A broadened social security system.

Murray Lists Progress

Murray, too, listed five things he said are wanted by "the great mass of working men and women who have become convinced that they are being squeezed economically and pushed around politically."

"They want better homes, better working conditions, improved medical care, adequate educational facilities and real opportunities for advancement," the CIO leader said.

In a message read for him at a CIO rally in Clendenin, W Va, Senator Kilgore (D-WVa) said the nation's workers have the power to "knock the props from under the National Association of Manufacturers and the reactionary Republican leaders by electing a progressive congress"

"Part of Plan"

Calling the 80th congress a "failure," A F. Whitney, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen told a Great Falls, Mont, audience that the Taft-Hartley act was part of a "well-developed plan to weaken labor unions x x x while restricted production is used to maintain present high prices'

Former OPA Chief Leon Henderson joined in the criticism of the new labor law in a speech at Anderson, Ind, but said organized labor itself was partly at fault for permitting the measure's supporters to be in congress

At Detroit, a CIO rally heard Henry A. Wallace reiterate his contention that "congress and the administration are guiding this country towards depression and war" and that "if we don't make the Democratic party into a party of peace and prosperity we shall build a new party."

An AFL gathering in the motor city was told by Republican Senator Langer (ND) that his party "has to be more like the party of Abraham Lincoln or it will be licked in 1948."

LABOR LAW GIVEN PLAUDITS, BRICKBATS

By The Associated Press

The Taft-Hartley labor control act was both lauded and assailed in Labor day speeches in Ohio.

At a celebration in Cedarville honoring the late U. S. Senator James H. Kyle of South Dakota who sponsored legislation establishing the national labor holiday, Rep. Clarence J. Brown (R-Ohio) declared he believed the Taft-Hartley act "is a good law and certainly entitled to a fair trial"

Brown urged labor to keep in mind that Senator Kyle, who was born near Cedarville, O, was "a country boy" and that he "fought your battles back in the days when it took courage to speak up against the vested interests in behalf of labor."

At Barberton, O, Rep Walter B. Huber (D-Ohio) declared "congress should go back and repeal the Taft-Hartley bill." He added, "thinking management is willing to sit down and talk things over"

Sharing the platform with Rep Huber at the Labor Day outing, John J Murphey director of the New England AFL area urged labor to get out and vote at the next election and return to private life people like Robert A Taft."

Rev. George G. Higgins of Washington, D C, who spoke at the annual Labor Day mass at St. Joseph's cathedral in Columbus, declared the solution of the problem of Communists making inroads in trade union rested with the rank and file of non-Communist unionists. He asserted Communists had won "temporary victories" in American labor "only by default"

Without mentioning the Taft-Hartley law, Father Higgins, assistant director of the social action department of the National Catholic Welfare conference, said "the public must see that unions are not broken by hasty, ill-considered or dubiously motivated legislation"

Voting Fraud Trial Opens In Kansas City Today

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY, Sept 2—The first trial arising from an investigation of alleged vote frauds in the 1946 primary election will open today in federal court.

The defendants are five precinct election officials and party workers named in the first indictment returned by a special federal grand jury, which indicted 34 persons.

AUTO HEADLIGHTS GUIDE PLANE TO SAFE LANDING

Four Safe in Emergency Landing at Galion.

Special to The Star

GALION, Sept. 2—Motorists guided an airplane pilot to a safe landing in Galion, Saturday night at 10 o'clock

Seeing no oil pots lighted on the runways at the Galion airfield, west of here, Robert Stinson circled in the night to attract air-minded persons. About 30 auto drivers responded when they noted the flyer's distress and knew there were no oil pots on the field They flashed their headlights on the field to guide him on the runways.

Stinson made an excellent landing with his passengers W C Deaton and two sons, Warren and Elliott, on a flight from Louisville Ky. Nearly 100 persons witnessed the 'emergency' landing near the lake In order to reach the water, he would have to cross the street, then walk about three houses west before he could go between houses and reach the water.

Fell in Unseen

No one saw the boy but it was thought he was alone He was dressed in overalls and a white T shirt when he wandered away from play in front of the house No one heard the splash if the boy fell in nor did anyone report hearing any cries.

The physician stated the child had been in the water at least 15 minutes judging from the amount of water in the lungs.

He was born May 13, 1945, in Cleveland to Richard E and Dorothy Mae Martin Acker and was a member of St. Mary church.

The body was taken to the Merle H. Hughes Mortuary. Funeral arrangements are pending the arrival of Mrs Acker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Martin, from Cleveland.

Living at the Lake street address are the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs Raymond Acker, the child's parents, an aunt, Miss Phyllis Acker and an uncle, Gordon Acker.

The grandmother and aunt had just returned Sunday from a two-month vacation in Binghamton N Y, and New York City.

GALION CELEBRATION DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Special to The Star

GALION, Sept. 2—Clear skies and a cool breeze brought hundreds of people to Galion on Labor Day for the parade and various activities during the day. Thousands from Galion and neighboring towns crowded Heise park for a spectacular display of $1,000 worth of fireworks in the evening.

As early as 10 a. m. activities began at Heise park with a tennis tournament. The parade at 1 45 p. m., headed by the chairman Samuel Baker riding in the Crawford county sheriff's car, was witnessed by several thousand persons who lined the main street for the event and who also were on hand at Heise park where the parade disbanded shortly after it passed the reviewing stand where it was judged. The judges, J. E. Spangler and R. P. Miller of Crestline, and Frederick Klein and Earl Leonard of Bucyrus, picked the following winners who were awarded cash prizes. Best decorated merchant's float, Galion Farm Service and Ancient Mariners (Baehl's Service Station), first prize of $20 and Galion Ice and Fuel company, second prize of $10; best manufacturer's display, Hercule Steel Corporation $20, first prize, and Perfect Steel Body Company, second prize of $10 largest walking delegation, Girl Scouts, $20 best dressed riding club Buckeye Rangers, $15 It was decided to give the American Legion and Galion High school bands, participating in the parade each $25, because several other prizes were not awarded.

Leading the procession were city officials, a state highway patrol car, the new fire truck, two ladder fire trucks, and the old horse-drawn steamer of the fire department which was manned by Chief Harry F. Kile Close behind followed the American Legion color bearers and firing squad, the Veterans of Foreign Wars in uniform, the American Legion band.

The softball game at 2 30 held on the Heise park diamond, was witnessed by a large crowd from Mansfield and Galion. The game was won by the Barnes Manufacturing Co. team of Mansfield over the Galion All-Stars team, 7-4.

As the game came to a close, a flight of airplanes dipped low over the Heise park field, while high above Victor Smith, ex-Marine flyer, thrilled the crowd with diving and stunts. The American flag extended from a parachute fell from the last salute of the afternoon fireworks.

FRANK SMITH'S NO-HITTER HIGHLIGHTS HOLIDAY BASEBALL

By DON C. BURTON

The near-perfect no-hit game pitched by Frank Smith Sunday night at Lincoln park against the Lima Terriers in which the Cubs won, 10-0, featured the holiday weekend here.

The Cubs had also shutout the Terriers in the Sunday afternoon game 2 to 0 behind the seven-hit hurling of lefty Jim Sabens.

In the afternoon game yesterday at Lima the Cubs unleashed a 15-hit attack to win, 20-2. Two home runs by Bob Shuford in addition to his double led the Cubs hitting although Gene Bobzean hammered out three hits, two of which were doubles and the other a homer. Wally Rasmussen chipped in with a pair of two baggers.

The Cubs learned how the Dayton Indians felt last Friday night when the rains came again here last night with the locals leading, 13-2. Mel Nelson and Jim Forbes got two hits each in the big 11-run second inning off Tony Chernetsky, Lima manager who was pitching because of the lack of available chuckers. The three doubleheaders in a row had exhausted the entire hurling staff of the Terriers.

Retires 24 Men

Frank Smith who knocked at the door of the hall reserved for only a few of the greats and the lucky, retired 24 men in succession in the game Sunday night here. Frank had never been behind on a batter and never gave more than two balls to any of the Terriers as he mowed them down.

The only time that Umpire Harry O'Grady got the count on his indicator above three balls while Frank was on the mound was to Sam Daversa, first man up in the ninth. He had two strikes on the Lima firstbaseman before he threw him a ball. After the count got to two and two Sam fooled off a couple of pitches before Frank threw an outside pitch and a low ball to put the first man on base all evening.

After walking Daversa Frank struckout John Guttendorf and Manager Tony Chernetsky, pinch hitting for the pitcher for the first two outs. The near perfect game ended on a breath taking play. Bob Huddleston hit a slow roller between third and short. John Smith making a desperate effort ran over toward the ball but did not get it. It looked like the ball might be too slow for shortstop Gene Bobzean, but Gene, giving it the last desperate try, shot the ball to Roy Hollingshead at second to force Daversa. Roy made a backhanded stab of the throw for the final out and a jittery scorekeeper breathed the first easy breath since he scented the no-hitter in the early innings.

Want Fortune Told? See Nelson Burbrink

Frank Smith's Sunday night masterpiece was a true "dream game" to Nelson Burbrink.

When the Marion manager told Smith at noon Sunday that he was to pitch the evening contest he added, "I dreamed last night that you pitched a no-hitter."

Smith made a prophet out of his skipper.

Teammates Back Smith

To give Smith the no-hitter several of the Cubs made out-of-the-ordinary plays. Wally Rasmussen caught a couple of fly balls against the fence in left. Bob Shuford came in fast to make a great one-handed catch of a sinking fly ball to right in the fifth. Gene Bobzean saved what was the nearest thing to a hit the Terriers got off Smith. Huddleston started the seventh inning with a liner to Bobzean's left. Gene made a driving stab of the ball and held on to save the no-hitter for Smith. John Smith came up with several fast plays on slow rollers at third.

Smith came to the Cubs at the start of the season, but in the first half of the flag race he spent most of his time in the bull pen and was used as the chief relief man by Manager Nelson Burbrink. After failing in a starting role at Zanesville early in the year he never got the starting nod until about two weeks ago.

Other Cubs Mum

None of Frank's teammates had mentioned the fact that he had a no-hit game on the bench when the Cubs were at bat. They kidded him and tried to keep his mind off the possibility. Frank was working hard trying to get a shutout, the first of his pro career when Bob Huddleston, Lima second baseman tipped him off in the eighth. Frank went out for the ninth round determined to give them everything he had. It might account for the walk to Daversa.

When he walked Daversa in the ninth and the crowd sent up an "Ohhhhh" in unison Frank says he did not know what they meant for he had his mind on the shutout and did not realize that Lima had not had a baserunner. He could not figure out why the fans were so disappointed that he should walk a man with the score 10-0 in his favor.

When the final out had been made all the Cubs made a fast charge at Frank and most of them kissed him and they all carried him from the field. Burbrink was the first to get to him and planted a kiss on his sweaty cheek. All said it could not happen to a better guy.

Smith Is Second Local No-Hit Hurler

Smith's no-hitter is the second pitched by a Marion hurler since the present Ohio State league was organized. The other was pitched by Fred Gehrt of the 1945 team against the league leading Springfield Giants. The game was only a seven inning contest when the Marion team won, 6-0. Fred walked a total of six batters and an error behind him put seven men on first during the game.

Perfect Control

After the game both Manager Burbrink and Umpire Harry O'Grady said Frank had perfect control and a very sharp side arm curve. The pitches that were called balls missed the strike zone only by inches, O'Grady said.

Smith who hails from Stone Mills, N. Y., near Watertown was an all 'round athlete in high school. He played football and basketball as well as baseball at LaFairgeville High school. While still a student Frank went to a try out camp held by the Chicago Cubs at Amsterdam, N. Y., and also made a trip to Chicago to try out at a camp the Cubs held. He was signed soon after graduating from high school in 1946 by Ed Pickens of Troy who was a scout for the Cubs. Dick Spalding also saw him in the try out.

He is now 19 years old, is six feet three inches tall and weighs 190 pounds. He was sent to Statesville in the North Carolina State league last year and got into six games as a relief hurler.

A few weeks ago a Yankee scout John Haddock who spent a week watching the Cubs expressed the opinion that Frank was the best prospect among the Cubs hurling corps to make the big time. Frank uses a half side arm delivery and combines it with a cross fire that makes the ball appear to be coming from third base. His curve curves out without dropping down as the curve ball of most hurlers does. It breaks quick away from a right hand batter and onto the handle of a southpaw hitter.

The no-hit hero of the Cubs is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith. His father is a retired stationary engineer. Both of his parents visited in Marion and stayed about a week in July but failed to see their son pitch. He has one brother, but none of his family have been ball players.

Frank is scheduled to pitch again against Muncie Thursday night.

KANSAS CITY WINS ASSOCIATION FLAG

By The Associated Press

Even St. Paul's manager, 42-year old Curt Davis—a 13-year veteran of the National league—failed to derail Minneapolis by assigning himself as a relief pitcher, and the Millers today had fashioned a 1½ game edge in fourth place in their bid for an American association playoff spot.

With the official AA season winding up Sunday, the Millers dropped the Saints, 7-3 and 9-4, in a Labor Day program which also saw the Kansas City Blues clinch the pennant.

Davis trudged to the mound in the second game to relieve Johnny Gabbard and held Minneapolis scoreless until Andy Gilbert smashed a homer in the ninth.

The Blues copped the flag by downing Milwaukee, 3-2, in an 11-inning nightcap after the Brews took the starter, 1-0.

Columbus tightened its grip on fifth place in the battle to reach the first division by beating Toledo, 4-2, after the Hens had come from behind to win the opener, 4-3. Les Studener and Ira Hutchinson rationed eight hits to Toledo in the afterpiece which was called by rain with two out in the Columbus seventh.

Indianapolis, 2½ games out of first division, split with Louisville, winning 4-3 and losing 10-4.

ZANESVILLE SCORES TWIN BILL VICTORY

Defeats Newark, 9-2 and 5-4; Lambert Wins 22nd.

By The Associated Press

Zanesville's Dodgers today had resumed their winning ways in the Ohio State league.

With southpaw Sandy Lambert and Bill Kean teaming up in the nightcap, the Dodgers swept a home-and-home twin bill from the Newark Browns yesterday after dividing the same kind of an arrangement Sunday. Lambert got credit for his 22nd Ohio State league victory despite Kean's appearance on the mound in the sixth. The Dodgers snatched a 5-4 triumph in 11-innings in the afternoon at Zanesville.

Rain interrupted all other Labor Day bargain bills, but Dayton and Springfield still fought through to two decisions. The Gem City Tribe beat the Giants, 3-2, last night in eight completed innings, after Springfield romped, 9-1, in the daylight opener.

Muncie trounced Richmond, 10-3, at Muncie but the elements stopped their Richmond tilt in the third.

ATTENDANCE MARK SET

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Sept. 2—Major league baseball boasted a new single day attendance record today after 300,825 fans attended seven Labor Day twin bills and two games at Brooklyn's Ebbets field. The previous single day attendance record was set last Memorial Day when 283,370 saw eight doubleheaders. The 1946 Labor Day attendance was 228,136 fans.

ROSES' OFFICIAL LEAVES

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 2 — James J. Joey, business manager of the Ohio State league's Richmond Roses, said today that he would leave the club Sept. 5 to become assistant to farm director Harry Jenkins of the Boston Braves.

Long-Time Friends, Howison and Somerlot, Tackle Job of Giving Grid Winner to Harding

"PETE" HOWISON

A pair of long-time friends whose time-tested athletic talents have won them the plaudits of fans in this section for many years have been handed the difficult assignment of giving Marion Harding High school its first winning football team since 1943.

These two are Head Coach William "Pete" Howison and his chief assistant, Kenneth "Kenny" Somerlot.

Pete and Kenny, who have carved a fancy four-sport figure in independent, amateur and college circles as both players and coaches, are believed to be the first Marion county residents ever to get the top coaching positions at Harding. When basketball season rolls around, the two will switch positions with Kenny taking over as head coach and Pete handling the assistant coaching spot in charge of the junior varsity. In the spring, Kenny will serve as track coach and Pete will direct the baseball team.

"KENNY" SOMERLOT

This is the first of a series of stories and pictures on the city athletic coaching staffs.

At 35, Howison is the oldest member of the Harding coaching staff, which may well be one of the youngest in the history of the school. Somerlot is 31.

Almost Parallel Careers

The playing and coaching careers of the two have followed remarkably similar paths since their high school days. Strangely enough, neither played football in high school. Pete was a forward on the Harding High school basketball team while Kenny was active in basketball, baseball and track at Pleasant Township High. Pete was graduated from Harding in 1930 with Kenny getting his diploma at Pleasant three years later.

Both boys showed great versatility in college. At Ohio Northern, Pete played halfback for two years, was forward for a while on the basketball team, covered the outfield for the baseball nine and ran the 440 for the track squad. At Miami, Kenny played left halfback on the freshman football team, saw considerable action as a guard on the basketball varsity and was member of the baseball varsity for three seasons.

Handicapped by Injuries

Injuries plagued both through their college days and in their senior years Pete and Kenny were forced to restrict their competitive activity as much as possible. Kenny nursed a bad hand while Pete was troubled by a trick knee.

In their senior years, both got their first taste of football coaching. Pete served as head freshman coach at Northern while Kenny was Miami's assistant frosh mentor. Somerlot's main responsibility was the scouting of all games of all opponents of the Miami varsity. He and Merlin Ditmer, then head freshman coach and now Miami's director of intercollegiate athletics, worked together in these scouting operations.

Both Somerlot and Howison landed coaching jobs soon after graduation from college, which for Pete was in 1939 and for Kenny in 1938. Kenny went to Harpster in Wyandot county and proceeded to turn out consistently victorious teams. In 1939, his first year at Harpster, Kenny steered his basketball charges to the district Class B championship. The team met with defeat in the first round of the state tournament.

Won 23 Trophies

All in all, Somerlot-coached Harpster teams captured 23 trophies. Included in this impressive array were five county basketball titles and four county track championships.

Kenny left Harpster in 1945 to accept the position of physical director of the Marion Y.M.C.A. There he remained until the fall of 1946 when he was named reserve basketball coach at Harding and head football, basketball and track coach at Thomas A. Edison Junior High.

Howison's first high school coaching job was at Nelson in Portage county during the 1939-40 school year. The next season found him at Atwater High in the same county. Then he transferred to Canfield High and from there to the salty atmosphere of a United States Navy training base. Pete served as a lieutenant, junior grade, from 1943 to January, 1946. Most of his duty was aboard a destroyer escort in both the Pacific and Atlantic theaters.

From the time of his discharge from the Navy to the fall of 1946, Howison was employed at The Huber Manufacturing company. Last fall, he was appointed head football, basketball and track coach at Central Junior High school.

Some fans hereabouts may know Pete and Kenny more for their diamond exploits. Both have long been active in local softball, Pete for 22 years and Kenny for 18. That means both started when only 13.

The two aren't taking a respite from the diamond wars because of their coaching duties. Pete is a stellar member of the crack Smitty's All-Star softball team this summer while Kenny is playing manager of the Schlairet Transfer softball and baseball teams.

Somerlot, who has worked at Schlairet for several summers, led the Transfer softballers to the city championship the past two seasons. The Schlairet baseball team last season posted an enviable record of 20 victories and three defeats. Probably the crowning achievement of a highly successful season came early last September when the Somerlot-managed Schlairet club defeated the Marion entry in the Ohio State league, 6 to 5.

Have Faculty Duties

Somerlot and Howison received their present coaching assignments about two months ago. In addition to his coaching duties, Pete will teach plane and solid geometry at Harding and Kenny will have charge of all physical education classes.

Howison, who takes over the head coaching job from W. E. Thomas, now at Upper Arlington High, is married and the father of two boys, 6 and 2. The older boy, who will start to school this fall, "can play about any sport," according to Pete. The Howisons live at 265 South Grand avenue.

Somerlot, his wife and two sons, 8 and 4, live at 214 Gurley avenue.

Approve Booster Program

Both Howison and Somerlot are agreed that the new Football Betterment Program for Marion schools is a step in the right direction.

Kenny says, "One of the biggest cries in the past has been that of people who said they wouldn't go to games because they couldn't find a seat. With the new season ticket arrangement, this situation should be remedied. The Harding stadium field this fall should be in the best shape it's ever been. We have the set-up to accommodate crowds we have ever had."

Howison comments, "We're definitely on the right track with this new program. The stadium is in fine shape and we are well equipped to handle bigger crowds. The turf, which has been under the expert care of Levi Welch, is in especially good condition."

Somerlot and Howison will direct the Harding team in an intra-squad game Wednesday night in connection with the opening of the season ticket sale campaign to complete payment on the new bleachers being erected on the east side of Harding stadium field. This campaign is part of the Football Betterment Program inaugurated jointly by the Harding High School Athletic association and the Marion Booster club to provide bigger and better facilities for local scholastic athletics.

Cardinal Flag Hopes Improve

Brooklyn Lead Cut to 6½ Games with Schedule Favoring St. Louis.

By The Associated Press

The flag hopes of the St. Louis Cardinals brightened considerably today while those of the Boston Red Sox flickered noticeable as the major league pennant races roared into the September stretch drive.

The odds were still very much against the Redbirds despite their double win yesterday which cut the front running Brooklyn Dodgers' lead to six and a half games in the National league. However, the schedule from here on in greatly favors the St. Louisians.

Of their remaining 25 games, 17 are scheduled on their home grounds. Of their last 38 games at Sportsman's park, they've won 30 for an amazing .789 percentage.

Dodgers On Road

The Dodgers, who split a doubleheader yesterday with the Philadelphia Phillies, must play 18 of their remaining 22 games on the road. The Brooks' record away from Ebbets' field this season is 31-28 for a .525 percentage.

The Cards whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates twice in St. Louis, 6-5 and 8-2, winning the first game in 10 innings. Catcher Del Wilber's triple with two on and two out in the bottom half the extra inning won for the Redbirds.

Brooklyn and Philadelphia exchanged 5-0 shutouts, the Dodgers winning the first of a morning-afternoon doubleheader in which two admissions were charged. A surprisingly tremendous turnout for the morning game caused a great deal of confusion which caused Brooklyn President Branch Rickey to offer a public apology. Of the some 40,000 who milled outside Ebbets' field trying to get in 28,153 made it. The afternoon game drew 35,468.

Giants Swamp Braves

The New York Giants swept a doubleheader from the Boston Braves, 2-1 and 12-2. They smashed three home runs to set a new club mark of 185 bettering the old record of 182 established by the Yankees of 1936.

Manager Bucky Harris of the Yankees was chased by Umpire Nick Jones for "delaying tactics" as the Red Sox spanked the pace-setters, 6-3 and 4-1. Harris had held up the opener while trying to make up his mind whether to yank Karl Drews, his pitcher. Harris filed a protest with league President Will Harridge.

The third place Tigers won two from the Chicago White Sox, 6-5 and 7-2.

Bob Feller twirled his third straight victory and his 17th of the year by pitching the Cleveland Indians to a 2-1 win as the Tribe captured two games from the St. Louis Browns, the second 4-2.

Washington dealt the Philadelphia Athletics their fifth and sixth successive losses by winning both games, 4-0 and 7-4. The A's dropped into the second division.

Subjected to a 1-0 shutout defeat in the first game when Bob Chipman outhurled Ken Raffensberger in a southpaw pitching duel, the Cincinnati Reds turned on first time starter John Miller for 10 runs in the first inning to defeat the Chicago Cubs in the second game, 13-2. The Cubs, however, came up with a triple play in the second game, their second of the season.

Davis Cup Win Copped by U S.

Kramer and Schroeder Stage Tennis Battle To Whip Aussie Challengers.

By The Associated Press

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 2—Once more, the Davis cup belonged to the United States today, saved by California's tennis buddies, stubble-haired Jack Kramer and shoeless Ted Schroeder, in a 4-1 triumph over the challengers from Australia.

It may be a long, long time before the tennis world sees another singles battle like the one yesterday in which Schroeder outlasted Dinny Pails to apply the clincher to the five-match series.

For 71 games the two players fought, with Schroeder discarding his shoes half the time and Pails missing several chances at victory, before the American finally won out, 6-3, 8-6, 4-6, 9-11, 10-8.

The match, which lasted three hours and 10 minutes, captivated the holiday crowd of 9,000 and turned the finale in which Kramer crushed John Bromwich, 6-3, 6-2, 6-2, into an anti-climax.

Bromwich, who had carried Schroeder to four sets in the first round was no more match for the incomparable Kramer than Pails had been.

It took Jack less than an hour to wrap it up in a straight-set duel.

Kramer, who probably will be a professional before another challenge round arrives, will open the defense of his national singles title later this week.

FELLER HANGS UP HIS 17TH VICTORY

Beats Browns, 2-1 as Cleveland Sweeps Doubleheader.

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Sept. 2 — The last-place St. Louis Browns play in Cleveland Stadium tonight for the last time this season, and Cleveland rooters will be sorry to see them go.

For it was by a doubleheader sweep over the Browns yesterday that the Indians managed to get a better than half-game hold on fourth place for the first time in about six weeks.

The Tribe won, 2-1 and 4-2, in the Labor Day twin bill to get back in the American league's first division by a game and a half margin over Philadelphia, which dropped two to Washington. Cleveland has won 14 of its 18 games with the Browns in the present campaign.

Two Bobs — Feller and Lemon —hurled yesterday's triumphs with the effectiveness that delighted the holiday crowd of 25,153. Feller racked up his 17th victory in the opener, struck out eight, and scattered five hits—one a homer by Jeff Heath for the Browns' only score. Lemon yielded six hits, including Walt Judnich's two-run homer in the eighth.

Joe Gordon, Indian second baseman, kept ahead of Heath for second place in the league in home runs by bouncing one off Heath's glove into the screen at the left field foul line in the sixth of the second game. Gordon's homer was his 25th, Heath's his 24th.

Lemon's homer, far up in the right field stands, was the longest of the day and proved the nightcap's winning run.

Cooler Nips Toledo, 2-1 To Avenge Earlier Loss

The Universal Cooler softball team got revenge from the Toledo All-Stars at Toledo Sunday nipping them 2-1. Earlier this season Toledo rocked the Cooler, 8-3.

A return match at Prospect park is pending. Leading hitters in Sunday's game were Moran with three for four for Universal and Rumis and Pawlicki with two each for Toledo.

Cooler had been scheduled to play in Detroit Saturday against the International Detrola team, but the game was rained out.

Blue Birds Chalk Up 5-3 Win Over Jackson

Led by Bud Creasap and Carl Harbolt, the Blue Birds defeated Jackson, 5-3, at Jackson yesterday afternoon. A crowd estimated at 2,000 witnessed the contest.

Creasap lined a home run over the 406-foot center field wall in the third inning and followed up with another hit. Harbolt hit two for three.

East Liverpool Wage Tiff Disrupts City Water

By Brush-Moore News Service

EAST LIVERPOOL, Sept. 2 — This city of 24,000 had a "narrow squeak" with its municipal water supply over Labor day when pumping and filtration were suspended for 24 hours in a wage dispute.

Safety-Service Director Charles Kidd estimated there was only 250,000-gallon reserve in the two reservoirs and two standpipes when the A.F.L.-affiliated crewmen returned to their jobs at midnight last night.

The four containers hold 6,000,000 gallons for the city's 6,500 consumers.

RESOLUTION NO. 3474

RESOLUTION AUTHORIZING THE CLERK OF COUNCIL TO ADVERTISE THAT THE REVISED ESTIMATED ASSESSMENTS OF THE COST OF SEWER IMPROVEMENT ON GLAD AND NYE STREETS IN THE CITY OF MARION, OHIO, ARE ON FILE.

WHEREAS, Council in Ordinance No. 4844 has determined that the sum that would be required to construct a storm and sanitary sewer in Glad and Nye Streets of sufficient capacity to sewer lots or lands to be assessed for said improvement, less two (2%) per cent thereof and the cost of intersection, shall be assessed by the front foot upon all lots and lands abounding and abutting upon the proposed improvement, and which lands were determined to be specially benefitted by said improvement, and

WHEREAS, written bids have been received by the Safety-Service Director for the improvement of Glad Street and Nye Street by constructing sanitary and storm sewers, and

WHEREAS, the lowest and best bids so received were by considerable amounts in excess of the estimated assessments on file in the office of the City Clerk and were rejected by the Board of Control, and

WHEREAS, the City Engineer has prepared a new estimate for the aforementioned improvement and has placed said estimate on file in the office of the City Clerk, as required by law.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Council of the City of Marion, Ohio:

SECTION I. That the Clerk of Council of the City of Marion, Ohio is hereby authorized and directed to give legal notice of publication in accordance with Section No. 3895 G. C. of said revised estimated assesement.

SECTION II. That said notice shall be published for three consecutive weeks in a newspaper of general circulation in the City of Marion, Ohio and shall state that the revised estimated assessment, on the foregoing improvement has been made by the City Engineer and is on file in the office of the City Clerk for inspection and examination of persons interested therein.

SECTION III. That this Resolution is hereby declared to be an emergency measure necessary for the preservation of the public peace, health and welfare of the citizens of Marion, Ohio, and as such shall take effect from and after the date of its passage.

LOVE'S PERILOUS PATH

By ADELE GARRISON

At Olga's adjuration of me, Mary sprang to her feet and rushed to the side of her regal "step-mother-in-law.

"No, no, Mother!" she cried. "You must not torture yourself by listening to anything about Otto! I'm sorry I asked anything about the story. I don't need to have anything explained to me. Let's skip it, shall we?"

Olgas arms were around her daughter-in-law in a warm embrace. Then she held her off at arms' length.

"Please go back to your chair, darling," she said. "You must not fatigue and excite yourself because of me. I am sure you will agree with me, Katherine."

Her eyes, as well as her voice, appealed to my kinswoman, and Katharine spoke in the mandatory fashion which Mary knows means business.

"Come back here, Mary", she said, "and sit down quietly. I should hate to take you into the bedroom and put you to bed, but I shall be compelled to that course if you get wrought up again."

A Bit Rebellious

"Okay, okay!" Mary said, a bit rebelliously. But she went back to her chair and sat down while I spoke to Olga.

"I can tell this story without speaking of Otto," I said, "and I'm sure no one of us wishes to cause you a second's unnecessary pain."

Her hand went up is a regal gesture of protest.

"The pain, the torture, is always with me, my dear Madge," she said. "It is not increased—indeed, I think it is even lessened a trifle—by being brought out into the open. But I do not wish you to be distressed, so, with your permission, I will tell Mary this part of the story myself. When I have finished with Otto, I shall be glad to have you finish the tale."

I think the same protest rose in the throats of her daughter, her daughter-in-law, and Katharine, as was choking mine, but there was something about her which silenced us all, and we bent toward her in respectful attention.

"You all know that I was compelled to banish Otto from my life, my love, and my thoughts many years ago," she said. "He is worse than dead to me, for one can remember the dead with love and longing and precious memories. But he—is a—traitor."

Her voice did not falter, but for an instant she did not speak.

Then she went firmly on.

"He is now in the South American country to which your father is sending this expedition. We know that he is planning to return to Transvania, to set up a Fascist government there, and to turn over to that government the immense treasure buried beneath the ancient royal castle of Transvania. He knows the secret entrance to the rock chambers from the castle itself, and he also knows the other entrance from a cave some distance away, if the castle shoud have been razed.

Secret Well Guarded

"The secret of the entrance is so well guarded," she went on, "known only to members of the ruling family, three faithful servitors who would be tortured to death rather than reveal it, and, I think, now to Georges, Olina's affianced husband, that only the lips of a traitor can reveal it. Mr. Spencer is taking measures to have Otto kept away from Transvania, for I am sure he never would reveal the location of the treasure unless he were on hand to superintend the looting, and share in it."

Her voice was so filled with loathing of her son's baseness, and with her own suffering, that my pulses pounded with poignant sympathy for her. And then she spoke directly to me.

"Now, my dear Madge, if you will go on with the story, I shall be grateful," she said, and without fuss or protest—I knew both were useless—I took up the tale.

"Georges and Pietro, when last heard from, were somewhere in Transvania," I said. "Pietro desires to set up a democratic government in the country, and to finance it with the treasure below the castle. His mother and Olina have renounced all rights to the treasure, wishing to aid Pietro in his undertaking, and Queen Olga"—I gave her the title purposely—"has planned how to get the treasure out before Otto can get his hands on it.

Certain Letters

"She has given my father certain letters, signed with her royal seal, to trusted men in Transvania," I went on, "asking them to aid Pietro and Georges, his close associate, in their endeavor to rescue the treasure, secrete everything possible in the homes of trusted peasants and farmers, and destroy the rest, so that Otto never can touch it.

"When I tell you, Mary," I finished, seizing an unexpected opportunity with avidity, "that my father sent your uncle and Jack Bickett with loaded revolvers to escort your father-in-law's delivery of the signet ring to 'The Chief' for safe-keeping in his hideaway vault, you may perhaps realize the necessity for the bars on the windows of anybody in the hotel connected with the Philip Veritzens."

At the beginning of the 15th century an enactment in England provided that any one who read the Bible in English should "forfeit land catel, lif, and goods from their heyers for ever."

There are about five hundred basic materials used in the manufacture of inks today, including oils, resins, color pigments, white pigments, waxes, dyes, and various acids and other chemicals.

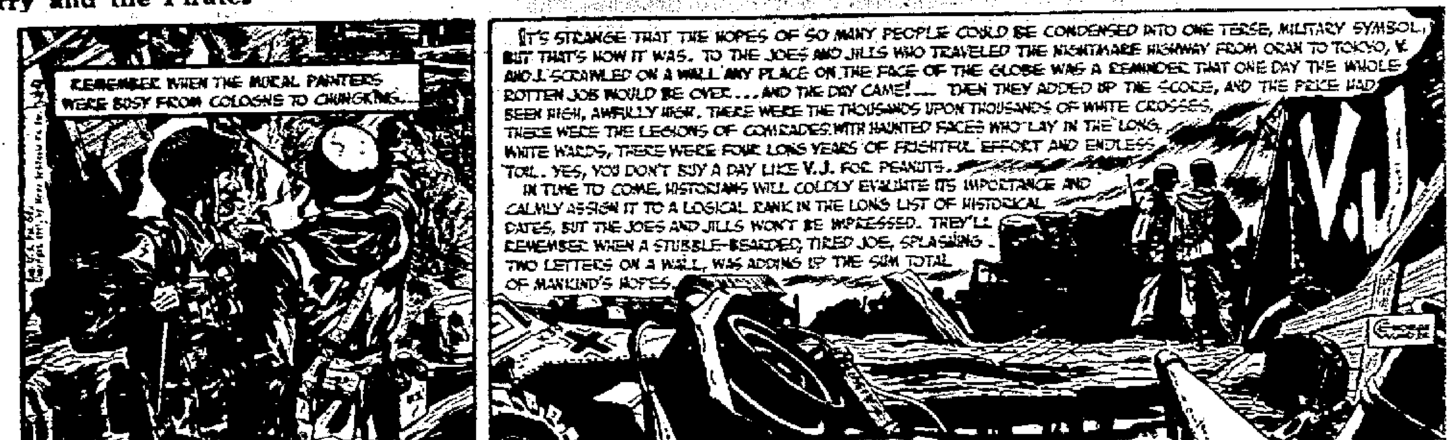
Terry and the Pirates By George Wunder



REMEMBER WHEN THE MURAL PAINTERS WERE BUSY FROM COLOGNE TO CHUNGKING...
IT'S STRANGE THAT THE HOPES OF SO MANY PEOPLE COULD BE CONDENSED INTO ONE TERSE, MILITARY SYMBOL, BUT THAT'S HOW IT WAS. TO THE JOES AND JILLS WHO TRAVELED THE NIGHTMARE HIGHWAY FROM ORAN TO TOKYO, V. AND J. SCRAWLED ON A WALL ANY PLACE ON THE FACE OF THE GLOBE WAS A REMINDER THAT ONE DAY THE WHOLE ROTTEN JOB WOULD BE OVER... AND THE DAY CAME!... THEN THEY ADDED UP THE SCORE, AND THE PRICE HAD BEEN HIGH, AWFULLY HIGH. THERE WERE THE THOUSANDS UPON THOUSANDS OF WHITE CROSSES. THERE WERE THE LEGIONS OF COMRADES WITH HAUNTED FACES WHO LAY IN THE LONG, WHITE WARDS, THERE WERE FOUR LONG YEARS OF FRIGHTFUL EFFORT AND ENDLESS TOIL. YES, YOU DON'T BUY A DAY LIKE V.J. FOR PEANUTS.
IN TIME TO COME, HISTORIANS WILL COLDLY EVALUATE ITS IMPORTANCE AND CALMLY ASSIGN IT TO A LOGICAL RANK IN THE LONG LIST OF HISTORICAL DATES, BUT THE JOES AND JILLS WON'T BE IMPRESSED. THEY'LL REMEMBER WHEN A STUBBLE-BEARDED, TIRED JOE, SPLASHING TWO LETTERS ON A WALL, WAS ADDING UP THE SUM TOTAL OF MANKIND'S HOPES.
